SUBMARINE GETS BIG STEAMER

2 BRITISH WARSHIPS SUNK

By FREDERICK WERNER.
Special Correspondent of the International News Service.

BERLIN, Aug 19 (by wireless)—A British cruiser and destroyer were torpedoed and sunk in an engagement on Tuesday with German torpedo boats, the Admiralty announced today.

The Admiralty also announced that German naval airships had bombarded London on Tuesday night.

The naval action took place off the Coast of Jutland, Denmark.

The text of the admiralty's statement follows:

"At 2 o'clock on August 17, five boats of one of our torpedo boat flotilla attacked a small modern British cruiser and a torpedo boat destroyer near Hornsriff Lightship on the west coast of Jutland.

"They sunk a cruiser and one destroyer with torpedoes. Our forces suffered no losses.

BOMBARD LONDON.

"During the night of Aug. 17 our naval airships again attacked London. The city of London and important establishments on the Thames were liberally bombarded.

"Good results were observed. In addition, factories and blast furnaces at Woodbridge and Ipswich were bombarded.

"The airships suffered no damage, despite a heavy fire directed at them, and all returned safely."

Imperial Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollwege opened the Reichstag today by saying:

"Proudly and without fear we look into the future." The Reichstag was expected to vote a $2,500,000,000 credit.

In reviewing the military operations of the first year of the war, the chancellor claimed victory for Germany and her allies on every front, and added:

"We ourselves have strong armies free and at our disposal for new enterprises."

The chancellor charged at attempts had been made by the enemies to conceal the whole truth from the nations at large and from their own people. He asserted this was proved in completeness by the information given by the diplomatists of the enemy to their own parliaments.

NEVER HID ANYTHING.

The Chancellor added:

"I never have concealed anything from the representatives of the German nation, and never have had anything to conceal."

The Chancellor further discussed Poland's future, declaring that the previous German-Polish antagonism would be ended.

"Our present occupation of the Polis east frontier," said the chancellor, "is the beginning of an evolution which leads the country, freed from the Russian yoke, toward a brighter future in which she will be able to develop and cultivate a national character."

The chancellor denounced the campaign of calumnies conducted against Germany.

"Her enemies pretend that Germany

Submarines in New Activity in English Waters

By International News Service.

LONDON, Aug. 19.—The Wilson liner Grodno, a British steamer of 1,955 tons, was sunk by a German submarine early today. The crew was saved.

The Grodno was torpedoed while en route from Hull to London. The ship was built in 1912 and hailed from Hull.

The Russian steamer Thornfield was sunk by a submarine Wednesday, it was announced today.

The English steamer Serbino, 2,205 tons, has also been sunk by a submarine. The crew of the Thornfield and Serbino were saved.

Dacia Renamed Yser Under French Flag

PARIS, Aug. 19.—The former American steamship Dacia, condemned by a French prize court owing to her transfer to American registry after the outbreak of the war, has been sold. Her new French owner has renamed her the Yser. She is on her way today under the tri-color from Cherbourg for Cardiff, to take a cargo of coal for Brest.

Report Kaiser Is Now Backing Greece

By the International News Service.

LONDON, Aug. 19.—The Exchange Telegraph Company today issued a despatch from Sofia, saying it is reported there that the Kaiser has telegraphed King Constantine of Greece to make no concession of Kavala territory to Bulgaria, adding that Greece will be energetically supported by Austria and Germany.

East Boston Boy Loses Arm by Cars

Charles Knowles, 17 years, of No. 7 Haynes street, East Boston, while stealing a ride on a freight train today in the Boston & Maine freight yards in East Boston, fell under the wheels, which passed over his right arm. It was necessary to amputate his arm at the hospital.

Cartridge Bursts; 3 Children Burned

William Troskich, 10; Helen Kosher, 6, and her brother, Stanley, 7, all of No. 85 Broadway, Chelsea, narrowly escaped death today when a large cartridge, which one of the children found in the yard, exploded while they were pounding it with a rock. The children are at the Frost Hospital with powder burns.

LYNCHING AROUSES NATION

ATLANTA, Ga., Aug. 19.—Governor Nat E. Harris is to offer a reward of $500 for the arrest and conviction of each of the slayers of Leo M. Frank, it was reported today, following the Governor's orders to State officials to make a thorough investigation of the kidnaping and lynching of Frank.

The expected reward is the highest permitted by the Georgia law.

Telegrams received by the Governor today and dispatches to the Atlanta newspapers indicate how tremendous is the wave of indignation which has swept the entire nation over the murder of Frank.

These messages urge Governor Harris to leave no stone unturned to bring the lynchers to justice, as the nation-wide desire and demand of the public.

News dispatches told of a plan of friends of Frank to raise a million-dollar fund to be spent in the arrest of every member of the party that took Frank from the Milledgeville prison and hanged him to a tree near Marietta. The same dispatch told of the departure of 70 young men, many of them college graduates, from New York for this city for the sworn purpose of tracking down the members of the lynching party.

"LYNCHER" QUOTED.

There are reports that some of the lynchers have boldly discussed Frank's hanging with their friends and one of them is quoted as having given this version of the lynching:

"Before Frank died we asked him

By International News Service.

ROME, Aug. 19.—Cardinal Serafino Vannutelli, dean of the Sacred College, died last night at the age of eighty-one. He had been a member of the sacred college for twenty-eight years, and his election as Pope was seriously considered at the papal election last year. Shortly before his death Cardinal Vannutelli received the special blessing of the Pope.

Norway Protests Seizure of Mail

By International News Service.

COPENHAGEN, Oct. 19.—The Norwegian government has instructed its minister at Berlin to protest against the seizure of mail on the Norwegian steamer Haakon, outside of Bergen, on August 7, and to demand the return of the confiscated mail. The Haakon was intercepted by a German submarine. Part of the mail was jettisoned, but seven valuable sacks were commandeered.

Miron Smashes Swim Record to Boston Light

Henry Miron, wearing the colors of the L Street Swimmers Club, today smashed Sam Richards' record swimming mark from Charlestown Bridge to Boston Light. The eighteen-year-old Abington boy negotiated the long swim in four hour fifty-four minutes and thirty seconds. Richards' old mark was five hours, fifteen minutes and forty seconds.

Miron gave a wonderful exhibition. He used the famous English overhand stroke all the way except when going from the Spindle to the Cove into the home stretch. He called into play the trudgeon stroke at that point.

It was the second time within three weeks that Miron has swam from Charlestown Bridge to Boston Light. He won the Boston Light swim of the L Street Swimming Club on July 25 when he defeated a classy field of starters.

435 PERSONS ON STEAMER; REPORT ALL WERE SAVED

The White Star offices in Boston today received the following cablegram from their Liverpool offices.

"The Arabic was sunk off the South Coast of Ireland today by a German submarine. It is hoped that the 175 passengers and the 227 members of the crew have been saved. Sixteen boats have already been picked up."

By HERBERT TEMPLE.
European Manager of the International News Service.

LONDON, Aug. 19.—The White Star liner Arabic, the largest passenger-carrying ship in the trans-Atlantic service since the Lusitania was sunk off the south coast of Ireland by a German submarine at 9:15 a. m. today.

It is believed that there were a number of Americans among the 175 passengers carried by the Arabic. News of the sinking of the White Star liner was received here at 5 o'clock.

The message stated that the crew was saved. Twenty-five minutes later another message was received saying: "It is reported that some of the Arabic's passengers were lost."

The Arabic sailed from Liverpool for New York at 6 o'clock last night. She was a ten-day boat.

The White Star line office this evening announced that all the passengers on the Arabic were saved.

The liner is believed to have been attacked near the spot where the Lusitania was sunk.

The Arabic carried a crew of 260. One hundred and thirty of her passengers were in the cabin, the other forty-five were in the steerage.

The fact that the first brief announcement contained only mention of the crew and not of the passengers may be attributed to a recent ruling of the Admiralty to the effect that in cases where British ships are sunk only the sinking of the vessel and the fate of the crew may be made known.

Steamer Arabic Was for 4 Years in Boston Service

The Arabic was a twin screw White Star line steamer and was built in Belfast in 1905. She hailed from Liverpool and flew the British flag. She had a tonnage of 15,801 tons, 600 feet long, 65 feet width, or last commander was W. Finch. She carried submarine signal apparatus.

At the Boston office of the White Star Line this afternoon it was stated that no word had been received to the company of the reported sinking of the Arabic.

The office stated that the Arabic was scheduled to sail from Liverpool yesterday for New York.

Whether she carried any passengers and whether any of these were Amer-

two questions. As we put the rope about his neck, we asked:

"Have you any statement to make?"

"He said: 'No.'

"Then we said:

"Did you kill little Mary Phagan?"

"He did not answer. We repeated the question and he then said: 'I think more of my wife and mother than I do of my own life.'

"We then said: 'We are now going to do what the law said should be done—hang you by the neck until you are dead.' That is all."

Reports had it that this statement was authentic, but there was no hint as to the identity of the man who told this story.

Other reports, however, made it emphatic that Frank died declaring his innocence, but all agree that he said at the end:

"I think more of my wife and my mother than I do of my own life."

It became known this afternoon that Frank's dying request was that his wedding ring be given his wife. This ring is now in the possession of a local reporter who will give it over to Mrs. Frank at the first opportunity.

The reporter in question is O. B. Keeler of the Atlanta Georgian. Keeler lives in Marietta. Last night he was at home when a stranger called, mysteriously handed him a note and then hurried away.

Keeler immediately tore open the envelope, and a plain heavy gold ring dropped out. Inside the ring was engraved: "L. S. to L. M. F., November 20, 1910."

REQUEST IN NOTE.

A typewritten note accompanying the ring read:

"Frank's dying request was that his wedding ring be given to his wife. Will you not see that the request is carried out?" This note will be delivered to you by a man you do not know and who does not know you. Make no effort to find out his identity. You are expected to destroy this note after reading it."

The State Prison Commission, which is preparing for a searching investigation of the lynching, believes that it has a good clew in the pair of handcuffs which were left by the mob on the streets of Superintendent Burke at the State Prison Farm after Monday's fatal.

These handcuffs, according to Chairman R. E. Davison of the Commission, are stamped with the serial number of the manufacturers, and the chairman thinks that by this means the purchaser can readily be ascertained.

Following today's conference with the commission, Governor Harris will give out a statement concerning the lynching of Leo M. Frank. "I want to speak a word for the good name of the State of Georgia," said Governor Harris, "and I am preparing my statement concerning the Frank lynching now.

"An awful crime has been committed against Georgia," continued Governor Harris. "The breaking into the State Prison, the abduction of the State's ward and subsequent lynching of him by the mob must be probed to the bullest.

"I will probably offer the highest reward permitted by the State laws for the capture of each man who has anything to do with the lynching of Frank, which is $500.

For half an hour yesterday afternoon Governor Harris was closeted with Prison Commissioner R. L. Rainey of Dawson and Chairman Davison. Rainey outlined in detail the assault on the state prison guards, telling the Governor how each guard was overcome by descendents of the mob.

Chairman Davison told the story of the attack on the prison farm to a reporter shortly after his arrival in Milledgeville Wednesday afternoon and declared that as the State Prison was not barricaded it would be impossible to check Monday night's assault.

GUARDS REDUCED.

The chairman declared that the officials of the prison could not be blamed for the stealing away from the prison of Frank.

"We kept all the guards on night and day duty at the main building in which Frank was incarcerated for several weeks," said Chairman Davison, "until they felt so much that two of them quit their jobs and we were compelled to reduce night guards to just five men.

"We had not expected an attack from the outside, but feared harm being done to Frank inside the prison. We had only one policeman additional guards for Frank's defence, and it was simply up to the Governor to furnish protection to Frank. Only the militia could have resisted Monday night's attack."

In reply to the charge that it was up to him to have protected Frank Governor Harris said:

"I would have gladly called out the militia for Frank's protection had the proper civil authorities notified me of the danger, or had I received any information that such an attack would be made.

"Recently I had the militia in readiness to make a hurried trip to Milledgeville to protect Frank when I was in receipt of information that a mob was organizing at Marietta to go to Milledgeville.

"The law specifies though that the Governor can be notified by none of the constituted civil authorities of outbreak before he shall call out the militia."

FRANK COUNSEL DEPLORES WORDS OF MAYOR WOODWARD

PORTLAND, Me., Aug. 19.—John L. Tye of Atlanta, one of the counsel for Leo M. Frank, today condemned the speech of Mayor Woodward of Atlanta defending the lynching of Frank.

"This speech of Mayor Woodward is illtimed and improper," he said.

"But we must not attach much importance to this speech, even though he is mayor of a large Southern city. He is entirely wrong in his impressions and by uttering them he has brought disgrace upon Atlanta and Georgia.

"The law-abiding people of Georgia condemn this mob activity. A most atrocious crime was committed in Mary Phagan's death. This in a measure explains the violence. If no other man had been arrested as Frank was his fate would have been the same.

"When Governor Slaton commuted the sentence of Frank, he did what any other honest man would have done."

Body of Frank Reaches Brooklyn Today—Family Pleads for Quiet Funeral.

The body of Leo M. Frank arrived in Brooklyn today and was taken to the undertaking establishment of Hollander & Son, 1360 Bedford avenue, where funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Rabbi David Marx of the Temple Israel, Atlanta, will officiate. Interment will be in Mount Carmel cemetery, Glendale, L. I.

Mrs. Frank arrived in Brooklyn at 8:30 o'clock this morning, accompanied by her brother, Sig Montag, and Rabbi Marx. They were met at the station by Mrs. Rae Frank Schwartz, a sister of Frank, and Mrs. Rosalie Loeb, another sister, who had come from Atlanta.

Mrs. Frank and her party were driven to the undertaking establishment in automobiles. Mrs. Frank was prostrated with grief and had to be assisted from the station to the automobile.

Mrs. Frank has requested that the funeral be conducted as quietly as possible, and that no flowers be sent.

WHITE STAR LINER ARABIC IS SUNK BY GERMAN SUBMARINE

leans the Boston office had not been informed, it was stated.

The Arabic was for years in the Boston to Liverpool trade. She was put into this service in the Summer of 1911, being brought over from the New York-Liverpool service.

For the past few months she has been in the New York-Liverpool service. On her last trip from New York she carried a big cargo of munitions of war and a passenger list which included a dozen Americans.

She was on her return voyage when sunk and apparently only a day out of Liverpool.

FOUND DYNAMITE.

Less than two weeks ago it became known at New York that a stick of dynamite was found aboard the Arabic shortly, before she sailed from that city on July 28 for Liverpool.

The explosive, according to experts, was in such a state that it would have exploded at the least jar. It was found by a stewardess between hot and cold water pipes. It was wrapped in a newspaper.

The steamer was searched, but no more explosive was discovered.

The dynamite was found the day before the Arabic cleared from New York with 16,000 tons of cargo, almost all of which was war supplies.

She carried 188 passengers. It was announced that twelve of these were Americans.

Cargo and baggage were closely examined for bombs at the time.

PREVIOUS FEAR.

Last March on a voyage to Liverpool the Arabic was chased by a German submarine in the Irish Sea. The race lasted for thirty miles, according to stories told by the passengers. The speed of which she was capable because of her superior speed. Passengers said the Arabic was never in any danger from the undersea craft after the big White Star liner got her full speed.

On that trip the line carried twenty-eight officers and men of the steamer Willerby, sunk by the German auxiliary Prinz Eitel Friedrich in the South Atlantic in February.

On June 10 last the Arabic sailed from New York with a big cargo of munitions, and fears were expressed then for her safety because of the nature of her freightage.

On her last voyage to England the Arabic reached Liverpool Aug. 5.

The Boston White Star Line office had received no cablegram announcing her departure from Liverpool, up to the time the first flash came that the liner had been sunk.

On her last voyage to Liverpool the Arabic carried a record cargo of war supplies. Among her freight were the following consignments: Four thousand cases of cartridges, 204 coils of wire rope, 59 cases of aeroplane parts, 196 automobiles, 629 cases of brass rods, 195 cases of fuses, 2,272 jackets for artillery shells, 3,477 steel billets for war supply purposes, 185 bales of cotton for the manufacture of guncotton, 1,683 rubber tires for motors in the war zone, 15,815 plates of spelter, 1,584 copper cathodes, 50 barrels of nickel blanks, 141 cases of brass blanks, 1,514 bags of nails and 337 barrels of lubricating oil.

PRACTISED SHOOTING.

Ever since the war began the Arabic has been active in carrying war supplies. In addition to her freight she usually carried a large passenger list.

The crew, on being warned that the vessel might meet the same fate as the Lusitania, formed a rifle club and practised daily with long range rifles of low-power calibre. The crew would trail a small raft about 100 yards astern of the vessel upon which a stick of wood would be stuck to represent a submarine periscope. This served as a target.

SINKING OF ARABIC MAY BEAR ON U. S. RELATIONS TO BERLIN

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19.—State Department officials received the first news of the sinking of the Arabic by a German submarine from the International News Service.

They refused to discuss the matter in any way, but they plainly showed they regarded the destruction of the vessel as having a serious bearing upon the present relations between the United States and Germany.

The officials were anxious to learn if any Americans were aboard.

Mrs. Wodener Denies Engagement Story

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 19.—Mrs. George D. Widener, who has Dr. A. Hamilton Rice of Boston as a guest at her villa here, denies the printed story of her engagement to Dr. Hamilton Rice, the Boston explorer, saying: "It's the biggest lie of the season." Dr. Rice escorted Mrs. Widener to Trinity Episcopal Church last Sunday.

AGED MOTHER OF FRANK FORGIVES GEORGIA MOB

By International News Service.

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—Mrs. Rudolph Frank today forgave the Georgia mob that lynched her son, Leo M. Frank. Only a few hours after her son's body had been brought here for burial Mrs. Frank received reporters for the first time in her Brooklyn home.

With no demonstration of any kind, the body of Frank arrived at the Pennsylvania station here today from Atlanta.

In an automobile hearse with an escort of two motorcycle policemen, the plain pine box containing the casket was whirled to a Brooklyn undertaking establishment, while an automobile carried the almost prostrated widow of the slain man to the home of Frank's parents at No. 152 Underhill avenue, Brooklyn.

Tonight, under cover of darkness, the body will be removed to some place which the family refused to disclose.

There was only a small crowd of the curious at the station at 6 o'clock when the train was due. Policemen were on hand, but their services were not required.

Just as the train came in, twenty minutes late, Mrs. Otto Stern, sister of Frank, arrived at the station, accompanied by Dr. David Marx, pastor of the Temple Israel, and several other men who declined to give their names.

WIDOW HALF FAINTING.

In a few minutes through the iron gate came a woman in heaviest mourning, who appeared to be half fainting. She was supported on either side by a man. It was the widow of Leo M. Frank, who remained loyal to him throughout his prosecution, nursed him at the prison farm at Milledgeville and then brought her body home. Mrs. Frank was accompanied by A. Marcus, her brother-in-law.

Mrs. Frank fell weeping into the arms of her sister-in-law and was assisted by Dr. Marx and Mr. Marcus into a waiting automobile. Meantime Henry A. Alexander, a lawyer who assisted Frank throughout his two-year fight, superintended the transfer of the casket to the automobile hearse. Throughout the operation, which required but a few minutes, the few people gathered on the sidewalk made no demonstration.

As the automobile bearing Mrs. Frank and her escort drove up before the Frank home in Brooklyn, the mother of Leo Frank ran down the steps, opened the car door and jumped in. For several minutes she rocked her daughter-in-law in her arms, both women weeping.

There was no crowd at the Frank home.

Ninth Arrest in Customs Tower Cases

Allen McPhail of Somerville was today arrested by United States Deputy Marshal Bancroft charged with defacing the railing of the Custom House tower. This makes the ninth arrest for similar offence. McPhail was arraigned before Commissioner Hayes and held in $100 for a hearing in September. He was allowed to go on his personal recognizance.

LAND MORE U. S. MARINES AT HAITI

CAPE HATIEN, Haiti, Aug. 19.—Another detachment of American marines has been landed from the warships off this port.

The rebels have refused to disarm, and in some sections have expressed a desire to fight the Americans.

The people of Cape Haitien are greatly excited.

Fortigured at Fort-a-Paix report that they are being menaced by Haitian rebels and they have requested that American forces be sent to protect them.

Allies Hurl Turks Back Quarter Mile

LONDON, Aug. 19.—General Sir Ian Hamilton reports the allied troops have hurled the Turks back a quarter of a mile in the Dardanelles. The latest Constantinople report says British attacks have been repulsed.

CUT THIS OUT

OLD ENGLISH RECIPE FOR CATARRHAL DEAFNESS AND HEAD NOISES.

If you know someone who is troubled with catarrhal deafness or head noises, cut out this formula and hand it to them and you will have been the means of saving some one suffering perhaps from total deafness. Experiments conducted in England some time ago seem to prove conclusively that catarrhal deafness, head noises, etc., were directly caused by constitutional trouble. It was further brought out that salves, sprays, inhalers, etc., merely temporize with the complaint and seldom, if ever, effect a permanent cure. The following, or, much time and money were spent in perfecting a pure, gentle, yet effective home that would quickly dispel all traces of the catarrhal poison from the system. The prescription which was eventually formulated and which has aroused the belief that catarrhal deafness and head noises are curable in the majority of cases is as below. Any druggist can get the ingredients for you, or you can send direct and any one can treat themselves in their own home at little cost.

Secure from your druggist 1 oz. Parmint (Double Strength), about the worth. Take this home and add to it ¼ pint of pure water and 1 oz. of granulated sugar; stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful three times a day.

Parmint is used in this way not only to relieve the catarrhal irritation, but to build up the delicate tissues of the Eustachian Tubes, and thus equalize the pressure on the ear drum, but to correct any excess of secretions in the middle ear. Every person who writes Dr. Parmint Co. in any form should give this recipe a trial and free themselves from this destructive disease.—Advertisement.

ONE MAN SHOT IN STRIKE RIOT IN WOBURN

Twenty-five shots were fired, one man was wounded and three others were arrested in a fight between Greeks and Turks near the Thayer-Foss factory on Green street, Woburn, today.

The three men arrested were fined by Judge Littlefield later in the Woburn District Court.

The police declared the trouble grew out of a strike yesterday of half a dozen Greek "stakers" employed in the W. P. Foss & Sons plant. Their places were filled by Turks.

Early today, according to the authorities, Greek pickets intercepted Turk employes and the trouble began.

The shooting attracted a big crowd. Chief McDermott of the Woburn police, with three patrolmen, arrested Moffatt Hassam. He was fined $25 on an assault charge and $50 for carrying a revolver. Mermados Ali and Mankas Hassam were each fined $50 for carrying revolvers.

Capt. Crowley's Wife to Christen Steamer

Mrs. Arthur L. Crowley of Boston, wife of Captain Arthur L. Crowley, assistant general manager of the Coastwise Transportation Company, will christen the large steamship Franklin, which will be launched Saturday morning at the yards of the New York Ship Building Company at Camden, N. J.

The Franklin is the first to be launched of a fleet of six big steamships being built in addition to the Coastwise Transportation Company's present fleet. The six new liners will be used in the transatlantic service.

DEAD IN TEXAS STORM IS NOW SET AT 116

HOUSTON, Tex., Aug. 19.—With 116 person dead and with property losses totalling $20,000,000, Galveston and many gulf and inland Texas towns and cities started today to rehabilitate with the subsidence of the terrific gale that swept over the lower part of the State for seventy-two hours.

The first official message out of Galveston, signed by Mayor Lewis Fisher and six prominent citizens, received here by special courier today, indicates that Galveston is safe.

The giant sea wall, erected after the great disaster of 1900, withstood successfully the terrible stress.

In Galveston 33 persons were either drowned or killed by wreckage including 25 members of the United States dredge Sanbernadino. Texas City was the next chief sufferer, 32 lives having been claimed by the storm.

COTTON DAMAGED.

Damage to other gulf towns, unprotected as was Galveston, will be heavy. The total loss of life along the whole gulf coast, however, is put at 116. Part of the big damage estimate in the storm is due to the destruction of greate rops of growing cotton.

In the list of dead, reported from Texas City, is the name of John J. Murphy, private in the United States army, a brother of Thomas J. Murphy of No. 174 Prospect street, Lawrence.

The message from Galveston's Mayor, reassuring the outside world, is as follows:

Galveston has passed through a West India hurricane that blew steadily for eighteen hours. The government wind gauge registered a maximum velocity of the wind at ninety miles an hour.

The city, due to the adamantine resistance of the sea wall, has sustained comparatively small loss in destruction of property, and but six deaths have been thus far reported.

CITY'S LOSS $15,000,000.

Not a business house or residence in the city escaped damage in some degree and the property loss is probably $15,000,000. About 300 buildings are damaged. The principal destruction of property occurred near the wharves. The cotton piers all suffered, one or two being washed away.

Two elevators were seriously damaged by the wind.

Five ocean-going steamers are aground on Pelican Island and the United States army transport McClellan is stuck there also.

The Galveston dead include four soldiers, one civilian and a young boy, all unidentified except Ernest Rohel.

Although the sea wall stood the test of the terrific storm the great Galveston boulevard through a great part of its extent is washed up and was today only a series of brick piles. It is littered in all directions with debris and it will take months to restore conditions to normal.

The most pathetic sight perhaps was presented at the City Hall and police station. Here were gathered hundreds of refugees who had been picked up by police and fire department patrols, with scarcely without rest, bringing in men, women and children who were in danger on the streets or in the shanties in which they had lived. In the number were perhaps 40 women with babes in arms and a scale of these little creatures and the efforts of frightened mothers to soothe them were heartrending.

A report from Galveston was to the effect that looting reprieve had been shot by federal troops stationed there to aid the citizens to reconstruct their city, which was attacked not only by wind and water, but by fire. Armour & Company's plant was among the buildings lost in the flames.

City gas, water and electric light plants were shut off while repairs were being made in damaged structures, and at times the people who were fighting to save their city from its ravages of the sea floods were in want of drinking water.

While no appeal for aid has been sent out, Mayor Lewis Fisher said that Galveston needs flour, fresh meat and other foodstuffs and fresh water.

NEWTON DEATH NOW LAID TO ACCIDENT

The body of Ernest L. Hovey, thirty-four, of No. 32 Channing street, Newton, was found early today beside the Boston & Albany railroad tracks in the rear of the Newton Corner fire station and at the foot of a 15-foot embankment. Hovey's skull was fractured, and he had been dead several hours when found.

At first, the police believed Hovey might have met with foul play, but Medical Examiner George L. West, after making an investigation, announced that he thought Hovey's death was due to an accident.

Both medical examiner and police, however, declared themselves unable to account for Hovey's being in the neighborhood of the spot where his body was discovered.

prepared this war, while her enemies were innocently peaceful and unprepared," he said.

The chancellor was applauded when he said:

"We shall continue to fight until these nations ask peace from their own guilty governments and until the way is free for a new Europe delivered from French intrigues, Muscovite lust for conquest and British rutelessness."

BRITISH CHECKED WITH HEAVY LOSS AT DARDANELLES

LONDON, Aug. 19.—British troops have been checked with heavy losses at the Dardanelles, it was officially admitted, in a report from Sir Ian Hamilton, issued here today.

The English commander stated that troops in strong force had been landed on Gallipoli peninsula at Suvla Bay and had advanced, but that their progress had been brought to a standstill.

The Turkish troops also suffered heavily in the fighting that followed the landing of British reinforcements.

The following report from Sir Ian Hamilton was issued by the government press bureau this afternoon:

"Recent operations in Gallipoli peninsula have consisted of attacks on the enemy's positions along the southern and also the Anzac (Australian-New Zealand army corps) lines. They included the fresh landing of a strong force at Suvla Bay.

"There is evidence from prisoners' statements that the Turks had been considerable reinforced with a view to heavy attacks on us, and that ours forestalled the enemy's by about twenty-four hours.

"Consequently the fighting was very severe. On both sides the casualties were heavy.

"The landing at Suvla Bay was well planned and carried out by the navy, but in spite of the fact that the Turks developed their greatest strength in the 'Anzac' region our troops from Suvla could not make very satisfactory progress before the enemy was able to move up considerable forces from his reserves and bring our further advance at this point to a standstill.

"Within the past week the positions won have been consolidated at all points. The spirit of the troops is excellent."

Despatches from the eastern front say that Grand Duke Nicholas, fearing that his army will be entrapped between Brest-Litovsk and Vilna, is withdrawing his main force from the Russian second line in the general direction of Petrograd.

The Teutonic legions that took Kovno by storm, after the forts had been battered to pieces by the Austrian howitzers, are sweeping toward Vilna and the Warsaw-Petrograd Railway line.

The Russian second line has begun to crumble with the fall of Kovno. Possession of the Warsaw-Petrograd railway at Vilna would put the Germans in a position to cut off the retreat of hundreds of thousands of Russian soldiers who have been caught under the northern flank of the Teutonic pincers.

Military experts declare that the position of the Russian grand army is more serious than it has been at any other time since the war began.

DRIVE ON VILNA.

The Teutonic allies have broken it into groups which are struggling helplessly to check the advance of the Germans and Austrians.

The important developments in the eastern theatre, according to the General Staff, are:

1—The Russians have evacuated the eastern bank of the Bug River above and below Brest, and south of Brest-Litovsk.

2—North and south of Kovno, German troops have reached the Bielestak railway, taking 3,000 prisoners.

3—In the capture of Kovno the Germans captured thirty officers and 3,000 men.

4—The Russians have evacuated their positions opposite Kalwarja and Suwalki, southwest of Kovno.

5—The Germans have crossed the Narew River west of Tykocin, taking 800 more prisoners.

Boy Drowned Off Staples Wharf

Edward Williamson, eleven years, of 38 East Eighth street, South Boston, fell into the water from Staples wharf, off Summer street, today, and was drowned. George Whalting of South Boston dived and brought the body to the surface. Police officers and a physician used a pulmotor for an hour, but in vain.

Coll' assunzione di Venizelos al potere, la Grecia si prepara ad entrare in conflitto a fianco degli Alleati, non perche' essa abbia da dolersi de gli imperi centrali, ma perche' non potrebbe essere a fianco della Turchia, sua nemica nemica. Il Venizelos pero' pretenda dei compensi territoriali e specialmente sopira alle isole del Dodecaneso, che sono oggi in possesso dell'Italia.

Il Governo d'Italia ha inviato una nota a Sofia, domandando al Governo Serbo che richiami immediatamente le truppe che hanno invaso l'Albania. Il Ministro d'Italia inoltre comunica al governo Serbo che numerose truppe italiane si stanno ponendo ad occupare l'Albania.

MILANO, 18 Agosto. —Il centro dell' attivita' Italiana e' stato subitamente transferito dal Carso ad un punto 30 miglia piu' al nord. Gli attacchi sono stati fatti contro Plava, Plezzo e Tolmino, dove gli Austriaci, presi di sorpresa, hanno perduto della importanti posizioni.

L'esercito italiano si e' molto avvicinato e molto in pericolo le famose fortezze di Tolmino, poiche' la altre di Santa Lucia, digia' catturate, sono appena tre miglia di detta citta'. La somnita' di Santa Lucia, che e' fortemente fortificata dagli austrici o' stata cosi devastata dal terribile bombardamento italiano, che la sua batteria non rispondono piu' al fuoco degli attaccanti. Questa importante posizione puo' da un momento all' altro essere conquistata dalla fanteria italiana.

Dopo la cattura della sommita' del Santa Lucia, la fortezza sin sinistra dell' Isonzo non potra' reggersi piu', e la caduta di Tolmino seguira' subito dopo forse prima di quella di Gorizia. Le truppe prese, secondo quanto si asserisce, sono vicine alla sommita' che padroneggia Tolmino a 2,500 metri di distanza.

IN ATTESA DELLA GUERRA ALLA TURCHIA.

Prossimamente sara' tenuto il Consiglio di Gabinetto del Governo Italiano per discutere della vertenza con la Turchia. Una ritirata diplomatica e' considerata inevitabile. L'ambasciatore turco ammette che egli potra' lasciar l'Italia da un momento all' altro.

Prevale la convinzione che l'attitudine turca sia ispirata dalla Germania. La Turchia ha daccapo inibito agli Italiani di tornare in patria e pare anzi che voglia daccapo internarli in campi di concentrazione, come se fossero dei prigionieri.

Oltre a cio' la Turchia continua a mandare armi, munizioni e denaro ai ribelli in Tripolitania. A quali sono inviati alla guerra santa contro l'Italia. Conseguentemente l'Italia s' determinata a adoprare delle misure coercitive contro la Turchia.

Nelle sfere politiche romane l'irritazione contro la Turchia e' massima.

Pare che l'Italia si stia rivolta agli Stati Uniti per far insistere l'ambasciatore americano a Constantinopoli acciocche' promuova l'atteggiamento piu' favorevole all' Italia.

SECOND SQUAD OF 'ROOKIES' AT RANGE

PLATTSBURG, N. Y., Aug. 19.—Ideal weather condition today favored the 237 Bay State business and professional men on their tenth day of life as "rookies" at the government camp of military instruction here.

With the second battalion, which today engaged in record target practice at the post range, many of the Bostonians rolled out of bed and camp at the early hour of 4:15. Among them were such notables as Fire President A. B. Tenney of the Suburban Gas Company, B. P. Kellogg, tennis player; Edward P. Savory and Fred E. Hutton.

With the close of today's shooting the men of both battalions will be graded as "sharpshooters" or "marksmen" in preparation for the coming manoeuvres.

One of the cavalry squads will leave camp early tomorrow morning for a practice ride of fifty miles. The other squad will leave Saturday morning and return Sunday.

FRENCH ATTACK IN ARTOIS AND GAIN SALIENT

By FRANKLIN P. MERRICK,
Special Correspondent of the International News Service.

PARIS, Aug. 19.—Attacking the German salient in Artois, the French have captured a cross-roads commanding the Bethune-Arras route, the War Office announced today.

It is believed here that this sudden offensive on the French left wing is the beginning of a general campaign to force Germany to send reinforcements to the western theatre, and thus lighten the pressure against the Russians in the east.

German counter attacks followed the French acquisition of the cross-roads, but this afternoon's communique stated that these assaults were repulsed.

2 Held on Charge of Wolcott Cross Theft

Harry Maley, forty-five years, of Fiske street, Cambridge, and Frank Clark, forty-one, of Brighton, arrested early today by the Cambridge police, charged with stealing a huge bronze cross from the monument over the grave of former Governor Wolcott in Mt. Auburn cemetery more than a year ago, were arraigned before Judge Lee in the Waltham Court. Both men pleaded not guilty and were held in $500 until tomorrow.

Find Photographer Dead in His Studio

The body of Nerses H. Baylerian, the well known art-photographer, was found today in his studio at No. 1567 Hancock street, Quincy, by Miss Lillian Sleep, his assistant, when she came to work. Near the body was a glass containing some liquid which will be analyzed. Medical Examiner Fred E. Jones ordered an autopsy. Baylerian has been suffering from severe headaches.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Aug. 19.—University of Minnesota regents have been called upon to consider the case of a university professor who thinks he received too much salary. A. F. Meyer, associate professor of hydraulics in the college of engineering, made a refund of $380 on his salary.

Stoughton Man Cut in a War Quarrel

STOUGHTON, Aug. 19.—During a band concert in Stoughton square, Elbur Snook, foreman at the Panther Rubber Company, was stabbed in the arm by Joseph Aragone, nineteen, a fellow-employe. Snook was sitting in the piazza of the Sebago hotel at the time. It is said that Snook, a fireman, and Aragone, an Italian, quarreled in the workroom of the shoe factory early in the day. The low of the knife, it is claimed, was aimed at Snook's heart. Aragone escaped.

This Man Tells FREE How He Was Cured Of Catarrh

This Chicago business Man had been a CHRONIC CATARRH SUFFERER FOR YEARS. He endured awful torture and humiliation from the worst catarrh-ridden nose and throat any sufferer could experience. He tried everything under the sun to get rid himself of the abomination. Nothing helped him beyond giving him temporary relief. Then one day he found a SIMPLE, EASY, PLEASANT way to relieve himself. He tried it, he had given up all hope of a cure. IT CURED HIM THOROUGHLY AND PERMANENTLY AND SO QUICKLY that he was astonished. He found immediate relief. It was so SIMPLE, INEXPENSIVE and PLEASANT that I could hardly believe it would cure me. But I tried it and now I AM CURED. I gave the secret to my friends. They were cured. I told hundreds. Now thousands of others every day get letters saying they are cured and thanking me for the secret for telling them how to cure themselves. I will tell you absolutely FREE all about this remarkable method of curing this horrible disease. HOW I CURED MYSELF and how thousands of others have cured themselves. All they have to do is write to me. Don't send me any money, just send me their name and address and I'll send this information FREE.

Catarrh is not only a filthy but a dangerous disease. It causes hawking, spitting, coughing and retching due to mucous in throat. It causes offensive breathnoises, deafness, headaches, buzzing sounds, sore throat, and finally, foul stomach, bad breath, indigestion and weakened faculties. In the head it destroys the sense of taste, and smell. It produces ulcers of the stomach and bowels and deadly consumption. All this and other dangerous diseases that undermine your health.

If you are a catarrh victim, suffering the pain, physical weakness and mental agony of this disease you owe it to yourself to send for this wonderful offer, surely you can afford to risk a penny postal for what you can get free. Write today. This disgusting ailment. WRITE TODAY TO

PEACE PLAN IS REJECTED BY CARRANZA

By JOHN EDWIN NEVIN.
Staff Correspondent of the International News Service.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19.—Villa and Zapata accept, Carranza and his generals reject, the United States-Latin American peace counsel.

That was the situation confronting the administration today. Villa's acceptance was in the hands of his agent here. It agreed to the proposals as set forth in the appeal of the diplomats. And it stated that this was the object for which he (Villa) had been striving at all times.

The news that Carranza has rejected the appeal reached the State Department through a confidential source. It was ejected that official confirmation would be received from Consul John L. Silliman at Vera Cruz as soon as communication with that city was restored.

The Carranza rejection will be presented to the United States in a very polite note in which the disinterestedness of the United States and Latin-America will be recognized. But it will be stated emphatically that Carranza dominates more than 90 per cent. of Mexico at the present time, and that he can have nothing to do with the bandits and reactionaries, who are the "only ones now opposing him."

It is expected that Carranza will so frame his note that an answer will be required which will give him additional time for his military operations. His representatives here declare that Obregon is now utilizing his entire army in an effort to crush Villa, and that if he succeeds in the fighting now in progress Villa will be forced to flee from Mexico. If Carranza could do this, of course, there would be nothing left for the United States to do but to recognize him and his government.

The following message, dated yesterday at Vera Cruz, was received here today at the Carranza agency from General Carranza. "The department of foreign relations received today the note sent by Secretary of State Lansing and the South American representatives through Counsel Silliman."

There was no comment with the message.

The battleships New Hampshire and Louisiana are now anchored in Vera Cruz harbor. Wireless despatches from Rear Admiral McLean, in command, say that the city is quiet and that representatives from Mexico City say the situation there is unchanged.

Funston's men retain control of the border and no further fighting has been reported.

Big Gambling Raid at Old Orchard

OLD ORCHARD, Me., Aug. 19.—The Old Orchard police early today raided a house on Third street and seized what they declared to be the biggest gambling outfit ever found in this section of the State. Three men, claiming to be from Boston, were arraigned later in the police court and given sixty and ninety day sentences. Two women were also arrested.

Judge Ferris, who tried the cases, lives next door to the raided house. His wife was a witness.

FREAKISH GOWNS CAUSE SENSATION AMONG SOCIETY

Freak gowns rule this Summer's fashions. Mrs. Richard Stevens in smock overdress at Newport.

Freak effects in women's wear are fashion's topliners at Bar Harbor, Newport and on the North Shore this Summer.

Down at Newport the other day Mrs. Richard Stevens, society leader, caused a big ripple of interest when she appeared in the most unique smock overdress which everybody—the women fashion fans particularly—termed a most attractive creation.

The smock is a net of point d'esprit sheared on with a broad—very broad—flounce of real valenciennes lace, with long net sleeves and valenciennes cuffs.

Mrs. Stevens wore a bunch of orchids, cigrettes that everybody declared to be lovely and extremely costly and broad shoe buckled set with brilliants.

MOBILIZATION TO BE GREATEST IN YEARS

The mobilization of the State militia, in honor of the visiting governors, next week, by Governor Walsh, was authorized by the executive council with but one dissenting vote. The day was set for Thursday. The order calls for the appearance of every enlisted man, and the entire equipment, including light artillery, ambulance wagons and carts. It is expected to be the most impressive showing of the militia in years.

"The people of the State will be astounded," declared Governor Walsh, "when they see the Massachusetts militia, and realize the amount and extent of its equipment."

The Governor will issue a proclamation, requesting the business men of the State who are closing Wednesday afternoons, to change the half-holiday to Thursday next week. Later he sent the formal order to Adjutant Cole to mobilize the militia, and that officer announced that he would transmit the Governor's instructions to the department heads immediately.

At the council hearing Adjutant Cole said the mobilization would not cost in excess of $30,000.

LABOR OF WORLD IN BIG MOVE FOR PEACE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19.—Organized labor of the world today is creating sentiment for a speedy ending of the European war.

The movement is central in the United States. It is being directed by Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor.

In every capital of the blood-torn nations of Europe efforts are not only being made to advance an agitation for an early and honorable peace, but the organized wage workers on whom the burden of war falls heaviest are preparing themselves to become a factor in the negotiations that will end in the signing of general peace treaties.

The labor movement now in progress has absolutely no connection with "labor's peace council," which is headed by Representative Frank Buchanan of Illinois. This one involves the American Federation of Labor and the national organization that directs the labor unions of Great Britain, France, Austria, Germany, Russia, the Balkans, Scandinavia, Switzerland and Holland.

NEGOTIATE WITH ALIENS.

President Gompers agreed to explain through the International News Service today for the benefit of the American public a part of the general plan. He stated that he already has prepared a call for a congress of labor and awaits only the calling of a peace conference to issue it.

He has been carrying on negotiations with the foreign labor chiefs ever since the last session of the American Federation of Labor, which met in Philadelphia last Fall.

Wage workers of all countries, it is planned, will attend this congress, which will meet in the same city and at the same time as the peace conference that will negotiate the treaty that will end the war.

It will be expected to give voice to what labor hopes will be included in the terms of peace. It is expected to act as an embodied "Thou shalt not" to proposals of forcible annexation of territory or to any indemnity plan that will impose an impossible burden on the earners of any of the countries.

PRESENT NEW FORCE.

The congress of labor, it was agreed by officials in Washington today, will present a new force in international politics. No such gathering was ever planned before. One thing that everyone seemed convinced of was that it would be able to assist in wiping out a part at least of the bitter hatreds engendered by the war.

President Gompers declined at this time to make public any part of his correspondence with the other labor leaders dealing with the subject, feeling it unwise as it might defeat the very object which it was hoped to attain.

His announcement that the call for the congress already was drafted was sufficient in his mind that the movement would be a success.

AMERICAN'S DOUBLE PAGE OF SPORTS

'GUNBOAT' SMITH BEATS HEMPLE

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—Gunboat Smith managed a squeeze-a close decision over Jack Hemple in ten slow rounds at St. Nicholas Rink. The Gunner's efforts in the closing rounds pulled him out on top.

Hemple, who helped condition Jess Willard for his fight with Johnson, romped away to a big lead in the first three rounds. The fourth and fifth were even. Then Smith began to get busy. He carried off the sixth, held his own in the seventh and took the last three rounds by fair margins.

Smith weighed 182 pounds, two less than Hemple. The latter started a flow from Smith's nose in the first round, a left jab doing the trick.

Alvah Meyer Claims He Defeated Loomis

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—Alvah T. Meyer, the Irish-American A. C. sprinter, who finished second in the 100-yard dash and third in the 220-yard run in the national championship at San Francisco is home again, the forerunner of the Winged Fist Squad which Lawson Robertson is piloting East. Meyer has nothing but praise for the treatment of all the Eastern athletes by clubs and individuals in San Francisco. He did not think much of the judges in the 100-yard dash, however, for a close decision was rendered against him in favor of J. G. Loomis, according to reports from the Coast, defeated the New York boy by inches, but Meyer produced photographs to prove his contention that he was first to breast the tape.

WISDOM OF SOLON

By HOWARD NOBLE

THE PROHIBITION WAVE which is inundating certain sections of this country is a repetition of a similar movement half a century and more ago. It is but history repeating itself; and as surely as history repeats, it also teaches. Massachusetts battled on the same ground that is being fought over today. Having for twenty years suffered from the prohibition delusion, she emerged from the ordeal clothed in her right mind. The experience of Massachusetts throws ample illumination on the entire subject of prohibition, even had not many other States likewise repudiated that principle.

With infinite patience and diligent care, the people of Massachusetts had during a period of more than two centuries built up a wonderfully efficient system for the control of the liquor traffic; but that system with all its beneficent features was destined to be carried away by the wave of prohibition fanaticism which swept the country, and the State was plunged into a maelstrom of social disorder unprecedented in the history of the Commonwealth.

Massachusetts, since early colonial times, had been struggling with the liquor problem. In 1647 the General Court relinquished the licensing power to the court of shires. An act of this date required applicants for licenses to furnish certificates of fitness from their town authorities. In 1680 measures were passed seeking to eliminate illicit selling and drunkenness. A few years later, a law was enacted requiring licensed places to be in conspicuous locations. In 1712 it was required that the laws against drunkenness be read at all annual town meetings. Then for 60 years there were few changes or additions. In 1775 a severe law was enacted to prevent retailing liquors purchased in bulk, the sale of which at that time required no license. In 1787 the liquor laws were revised, and a stringent law against gambling in licensed places was added. Again followed a period of law-making inactivity until 1832, when another revision was made. Three years later the Legislature passed a bill making it unlawful to sell liquors in quantities of less than 28 gallons, but it never became law. In 1838 the famous 15-gallon law was passed but was repealed two years later upon recommendation of Gov. Morton, who, prior to his election, had been president of the American Temperance Society.

Prohibition sentiment was sweeping the country at that time, and in consequence a prohibitory law was put into effect in Massachusetts in July, 1852; it was repealed in 1854, and was re-enacted by the famous "Know Nothing" Legislature of 1855. For the next twenty years Massachusetts had "prohibition."

The fight to re-establish license, finally won in 1875, was led by the foremost men of the State—such men as ex-Gov. Andrew, Oliver Wendell Holmes, John Quincy Adams, Prof. Louis Agassiz, Rev. Wm. R. Alger, Rev. Chas. F. Barnard, Dr. Henry J. Bigelow, Rev. Dr. George W. Blagden, Rev. Dr. George E. Ellis, and 250 others, acting upon petition of 35,000 voters.

The prohibition law from the first had been a sorry farce. Liquor was sold openly in all the cities and larger towns. Drunkenness and corruption of public officials had increased to an alarming extent. The people were becoming defiant of all law. The patient work of the fathers in building up an efficient system of control had been superseded by lack of all control. In sheer defense of their own and the public interests, thousands who had voted for prohibition clamored for its repeal. Prohibition had proved the costliest experiment, morally and materially, that Massachusetts had ever made. It is this law of 1875, with many amendments such as local option and high and limited license, that we are living under today; and in the opinion of thoughtful students the world over, the experience of all the ages has brought forth nothing better.

When Solon, the Greek law-giver whose name has become synonymous with legislative wisdom, had given Athens relief from the repressive Draconic laws—the laws "written in blood"—he was asked:

"Are your laws the best that can be devised?"

"No," said that practical philosopher; "but they are the best the Athenians can bear."

"I have used beer moderately for the past four years during my career as a runner. I have found it to be of great value as an aid to digestion, and honestly believe that it is beneficial and without question a body builder. I drink beer moderately while in training, especially with my principal meal of the day."—Abel R. Kiviat, 1914 champion middle distance runner of the United States.

TYLER MAY FACE CARDINALS TODAY

By RIGHT FIELD.

Of course, it isn't reasonable to presume that everybody is going out to Braves Field again today, but nevertheless there will be quite some few thousands on hand when the Champions and the Cards square off in their second encounter of the series.

The Braves, with so many auspicious happenings to their credit, are more than determined to build up a long string of victories. They are all up on their toes to keep the tally sheet of the Allston yard clean just as long as "pep" and hustle will avail them.

Manager Stallings is expected to send "Lefty George" Tyler, who hasn't seen his Derry, N. H., farm since the big rain, to the firing line, with Ragan and Hughes in the offing.

"Lefty George" was around the park as spry as a kitten on Dedication Day, and is suspected of having a sweet game of ball concealed about his person.

Miller Huggins, scornful of the feelings and ambitions of the champions, is coming right back after yesterday's defeat, and will try to get his team going on the high.

Donk, who was more or less expected to draw the Big Day assignment, may go to the mound today instead. Then there is Griner, not to mention Ames, who would like to try and slow-ball the Braves into confusion once more.

With Johnny Rivers back at second, the Braves are preparing to tear into any and all comers. John's layoff has given him a good rest, and he is now expected to go on to the wire.

Compton, the new centre-fielder, seems to have improved the garden problem. With his advent, S. Magee has moved over to his favorite haunt in left.

The Braves apparently didn't hold "Slim" Sallee or Meadows much in awe in the opener, and their war clubs are likely to be heard from again today.

We can all count on the Cards putting up the best fight that is in them, and so there will be some work-while pasturing this afternoon.

All the "fans" are delighted with the new field. Strange to say, there are sundry persons who did not get out there yesterday, but the faithful have told them what they missed and the stay-at-homes will be there today.

The new field takes its place as one of Boston's sights and one of Boston's institutions. It wouldn't hurt anyone to take in a game there, even if they didn't know a sacrifice fly from the third hassock.

New Diving Star Is Seeking Fame

There is a new aspirant for swimming honors in Boston. His name is Albert W. Cooper. Cooper is a colored lad, and, according to his backers, possesses enough class to make things interesting for any of the local stars in a match in the water. His specialty is diving and he is ready to meet anybody in New England in a special diving contest.

In a special trial the other night Cooper swam across the Charles River Basin.

RED SOX IN BIG FIGHT TO KEEP LEAD

CHICAGO, Aug. 19.—George Foster, high for all the box boys in both major leagues, is "General Bill" Carrigan's first choice for slab work in today's performance with the White Sox.

The Oklahoman will positively work, stated Carrigan to the American's correspondent in the forenoon, providing he warms up properly. Otherwise, Ernie Shore, always an enigma to Comiskey's artillery, will be trotted out. This program will allow "Smoky Joe" Wood to be thoroughly rested for tomorrow's getaway contest.

The Red Sox played bogus ball yesterday. Though smashing out thirteen hits off "Rube" Russell, they would have owned a single tally but for Blackburne making two bobbles and Russell one in the eighth round. The punch wasn't there and the crowd of 600 in attendance could hardly believe that this was the same club that came along in mid-July and thrashed the White Sox four out of five.

The cause of it all, in all likelihood, was "Dutch" Leonard. He not only pitched a bad game, as long as he was allowed to survive, but went around with a chip on his shoulder and soon got in bad with the fans. Early in the scrap, before Jacques Fournier got knocked out in his collision with Jack Barry, "Dutch" had it out with the Frenchman. Jacques claimed "Dutch" tried to bean him, and, when Jacques complained "Dutch" threw some sarcastic slams his way.

Fournier won't be seen against the Red Sox again this trip. He is home to combat and feeling very punk as a result of his mixup with Barry in a close play at the first bag. Looks like Shano Collins on first today, with Leibold keeping Felsch and Murphy company in the outfield.

"Red" Faber is carded to do the twirling for the White Sox today. Jim Scott is the runner-up for the honor.

A Real Flesh Builder For Thin People

WHO WOULD INCREASE WEIGHT.

This men and women who would like to increase their weight with 10 or 15 pounds of healthy "stay-there" fat should try eating a little Sargol with their meals for a while and note results. Here is a good test worth trying. First weigh yourself and measure yourself. Then take Sargol—one tablet with every meal—for two weeks. Then weigh and measure again. It be a question of how you look or feel or what your friends say and think. The scales and tape measure will tell their own story. Many people, having followed these simple directions, report weight increases of from five to eight pounds with continued gains under further treatment.

Sargol does not act to make fat, but by mixing with your food its purpose is to help the digestive organs turn the fats, starches and starches of what you have eaten into rich, red blood—nourishment for the tissues and blood—prepares it in an easily assimilated form which the blood can readily accept. A great deal of this nourishment now passes from this people's bodies as waste. Sargol is designed to stop the waste and make the fat producing contents of the very same meals you are eating now, develop pounds and pounds of healthy flesh between your skin and bones. Sargol is nonintrinsic, pleasant, efficient and inexpensive. Leading druggists are authorized to sell it in large boxes—forty tablets to a package—on a guarantee of weight increase or money back as found in every package.

James of Browns Landed by Tigers; Detroit Is Happy

DETROIT, Aug. 19. — Tiger stock for the pennant has taken a big jump, in the opinion of Detroit "fans," as a result of "Big Bill" James, the noted right-hand er of the Browns, being secured by Hughie Jennings.

James' release cost in the neighborhood of $15,000—at least $10,000 in cash, with Outfielder "Baby Doll" Jacobson thrown in.

The Best Throw Any Man Can Make with the Dice Is to Throw Them Away

NEWS WRITTEN BY LEADING EXPERTS

HOME BIFF BOYS ARE SLIDING DOWN HILL

NEW ENGLAND'S grand old guard of boxers is almost a thing of the past. Matty Baldwin, Charlestown's favorite son, is one of the few veterans still performing. Father Time has threatened to play taps for Baldwin on several occasions during the past few years, but the stout-hearted lightweight has always pushed the ancient citizen to one side when it looked as though he would gain a victory.

The Charlestown warrior says he intends to keep right on boxing. New England's ring lovers wish him all kinds of success, but he will probably soon be forced into retirement.

EDDIE MURPHY'S protege was beaten by "Young" Saylor at the Atlas A. A. Tuesday night. Matty, however, put up a courageous battle. He was outclassed from the start, but his fine ring generalship and stout heart made it possible for him to go the distance.

During his fifteen years of service in the ring, Baldwin has clashed with many famous boxers. He battled Freddy Welsh, Ad Wolgast, Willie Ritchie, Owen Moran, Tommy Murphy, Leach Cross, Ray Bronson, Joe Mandot, Pal Moore, "Young" Rhujrue, Eddie Murphy, Gilbert Gallant and other star fighters.

Matty is thirty-one years of age and has three beautiful children. He's a real ring marvel.

ALEX MCLEAN has secured Joe Eagan to help prepare Gilbert Gallant for his 15-round bout with Frankie Callahan at the Atlas A. A. next Tuesday night. McLean realizes that his protege will have to be in the best of condition if he is to win from Callahan, who is one of the hardest hitting men in the lightweight ranks. He proved his class by stopping Joe Rivers in two rounds, and scoring knockdowns in contests with Joe Mandot, Sam Robideau and Jimmy Duffy.

The winner of next Tuesday's match will probably be signed to exchange blows with Charley White at the Triple-A organization late in September. Maffit Flaherty will referee next Tuesday's skirmish.

CALLAHAN is one of the many Ghetto boxers winning fame in the ring. The Ghetto glove men seem to be all hard hitters. Charley White, Leach Cross and Callahan make up a motley array of boxers with a knockout blow in each hand.

"MICKEY BROWN" is training at Silver Lake for his tussle with Tommy Sloss, which will be held at the Atlas A. A. next Tuesday night. The clever Malden bantamweight is working out with "Phinny" Green, Willie Green and Johnny Noonan. This trio should give him plenty of rapid-fire boxing.

JOE WOODMAN says that Sam Langford is today ready to clash with any heavyweight in the world, white or black. Sam has received a few reverses of late, but is still the same old ring demon.

FRANKIE MACK, the Beachmont lightweight, says he would like to get a crack at "Young" Saylor. Leo Flynn's skilful boxer would probably be able to give Saylor an interesting whirl.

AL BELMONT, another veteran boxer, will try a little "comeback" act when he clashes with Charley Sheppard in a bout in Gloucester next Monday night. Al certainly has to boxing at a merry clip and that he expects to beat his youthful opponent.

RING RESULTS.

NEW HAVEN, Aug. 19.—"Porky" Flynn of Bridgeport knocked Willie Ritchie out in the second round of what was to have been a fifteen-round fight.

Tom M'Namara Is High in Western Open Golf Show

CHICAGO, Aug. 19.—Tom McNamara, the Boston professional, leads the field of golfers for the Western open golf championship. They start on the second 36 holes today. The Boston player fired a card of 153 for the first 36 holes and headed a field of 110 golfers.

Jack Hutchinson of Pittsburgh got a 155, and George Sargeant of Chevy Chase and Gilbert Nicholls of Wimington tied with 156.

Miles Brady of Boston got a score of 162 and Tom Kerrigan's card read 163.

SIDELIGHTS ON SPORTS

BY RIGHT FIELD

WELL, Mr Charles Holiday himself, what do you think of OUR holiday?

YOU were out there at Braves Field and saw the whole shooting match. Now, honestly, Mr. Ebbets, can you beat it?

SAY! Ain't it a grand park?

CHARLES J. ADAMS writes in from Cambridge to praise Mr. Gaffney for "the restful green walls" of the new field. We heard the same expression many a time and oft in the stands during the big day.

MR. ADAMS, whom we are glad to hear from, opines that "baseball is on an high a plane as the stage" and that "baseball is the greatest of the world's sports." Yesterday's attendance figures amply confirm him on the latter point.

SOME of the other "fans" who have written in will see their questions and opinions aired soon, now that Dedication Day excitement is over.

COUNCILLOR WATSON batted .400 at the luncheon. He said he didn't care if we printed the fact, either.

NATURALLY there were a lot of "frats" on the first day at Allston. Gowdy not the first putout and Miller Huggins was the first man put out. Maranville hit in the first run and Magee scored it.

M. E. WEBB was the first man in the press box to catch a foul. He made a perfect throw to Snyder, the Cards's catcher.

BESCHER got the first "hoe," which seemed to have been ill-considered on the part of the "three-eye." Only a few saw any swivel interest in connection with his collision with Schmidt.

LONG of the Cards got the first two-bagger. Butler got the first hit of the day.

CLARK GRIFFITH got a dandy reception when he went to the box to pitch the first ball. "Miracle Man" Stallings caught it. Some of the Braves had been trying to lead him to believe he wouldn't. Griff has a puzzling curve, but it wouldn't have been etiquette for Huggins to have whaled it.

"BILLY" WALSH'S test straw looked as if it had been torpedoed after a foul hit it.

MRS. GAFFNEY and Miss Irene Gaffney came over from New York.

FATHER JOHN D. WHITNEY of Washington, formerly of Boston College, had a seat in Mayor Curley's box.

FORMER Councillor Alexander McGregor, Former Lieutenant-Governor Barry and District Fire Chief Pico were a few of those who had boxes.

THE score card boys appeared in spotless white coats and caps. One of the boys stumbled while carrying a stack of 50 cards and had to call for help in order to round them all up.

KLEM, umpiring at the plate, and Evans, on the bases, had a quiet afternoon. Not a soul in the vast enclosure disagreed with them at any stage of the matinee.

SAW one man asleep. Braves Field would have been our idea of nowhere to take a nap.

"THE RABBITS' COLUMN" By Walter J. Maranville SHORTSTOP OF THE BRAVES

Shake, boys! We certainly dedicated the new Braves' Field at Allston in proper style. As many of the members of our team are superstitious, I was glad that we were able to smash out a victory over the Cardinals. The boys all believe that we are now certain to finish first in the National League pennant scramble. Here's hoping we do.

The Phillies dropped a tussle to the Pirates, while we were trimming Huggins' team. I have maintained all season that Pat Moran is not directing championship outfit and that it would crack before the season ended. The Dunkers have lost their last two games, and I expect them to have quite a list of defeats chalked up against them before the pennant race ends in October.

Mayer pitched wonderful ball for the Phillies until recently. He caused us more trouble than the mighty Alexander. Mayer, however, has been worked too much. He has broken down under the strain and will probably not be of much use for the remainder of the season. He was hit hard in yesterday's skirmish with the Pirates.

Alexander is also tiring. Rixey and Demaree are good hurlers, but they do not possess enough class to hurt the Phillies to a championship, unless they receive able support from Alex and Mayer.

There is no denying the statement that Boston is the greatest baseball city in the world. It was a wonderful crowd which turned out to welcome the Braves home and to take part in the dedication of our new home at Allston. I do not believe that there would be such a gathering of "fans" in any other city in the country under similar circumstances.

The rousing welcome which we received from the "fans" inspired every member of the outfit with a new fighting spirit. We are now even more determined to win the National League championship and get into the world's series this Fall. Boston baseball lovers deserve to have a winning club in the National League.

I was tickled to have Johnny Rivers working at my side again. The Trojan was in better condition yesterday than he has been for several weeks. He is now able to sleep at night, while he is eating better than he did while we were on the road. John of Troy is a necessary part of our winning machine and we do not have things very easy when he is out of the game.

Evers and myself also work together, Johnny has coached me in many of the fine points of the game, and I always ask him how what to do when he is guarding the keystone station. We got in one of our winning double plays in the ninth inning of yesterday's game which nipped a St. Louis rally.

With two men on in the ninth and only one down, Snyder hit to me. I tossed the ball to Johnny, forcing Wilson. The "Keystone King" then whipped the sphere to Schmidt at first, and Snyder was retired. It will be remembered that killing double-plays played a prominent part in our triumph in the National league race, and in the dear old world's series last Fall.

"Hank Lank" Gowdy always seems to come through when playing before a large crowd. There are scores of ball players who go to pieces when the stands are packed by cheering thousands. Not so with Gowdy. He usually always plays well, but he is in his element when every seat in a ball park is occupied. He delivered one of his famous extra base blows in the fourth inning of yesterday's game. With two on, Gowdy doubled and both men raced across the counting station. Those runs won for us.

* * *

"Dick" Rudolph is another ball player who does not allow a big crowd to worry him. He ignore important a ball game and the larger the crowd, the better Rudolph pitches. I think that this is the real test for a big leaguer.

Marsans Decision Today.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 19.—The injunction suit against Armando Marsans, the ex-Rebel, which has prevented him from playing with the St. Louis Feds, will be passed upon today by Federal District Judge Dyer.

Pere Marquettes vs. McG. & M's.

A great crowd is expected at the M street grounds Saturday afternoon when the Pere Marquette Council, Knights of Columbus, team meets the McGreenery & Mannings. Wright and Hartzrey will be the battery for the Knights.

Baseball Over the Wire.

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—Pitcher Cliff Markle of the Waco (Texas) League club, is a Yankee purchase. He previously played with Morristown, Clinton and Rockford.

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—Outfielder Kelly of Vernon, Cal., a relative of old "Hill" Lange, made his debut as a Cub Saturday and was as a pinch hitter, but he failed to deliver.

CINCINNATI, Aug. 19.—Manager Charley Jackson of the Bloomington (Three I League) club, has reported to Manager Dan Howley of the Reds.

DES MOINES, Ia., Aug. 19.—Hennessy Hamilton, pitcher of the Des Moines (Western League) club, has been sold to the Washington club.

BROOKLYN, Aug. 19.—The official announcement is made by the Wash that John Carmel has been signed to manage the Brooklyn. He will make his debut in Baltimore next Monday.

Jack Didn't Mean Billy Goat Butt

In only one round of the big fight did Johnson try any rough work on Willard. Even that he apologized for, and Jack says he always thought the billy goat butt the negro gave him was unintentional.

In tomorrow's chapter of his autobiography Willard describes the fight from round seven to round fourteen. The tenth was the round Johnson had chosen to put the cowboy to sleep—but his plan miscarried.

It's interesting to read why.

D RONSON TO GIVE PROMOTERS TIPS

INDIANAPOLIS, Aug. 19.— Ray Bronson of Indianapolis, manager of Willard Saylor, contender for the lightweight title, will attend the meeting of boxing promoters and managers at Cleveland, Ohio, August 21 and 22. Bronson, incidentally, will have a few things to say relative to the formation of an association of boxing promoters.

The former welterweight champion has been in the boxing game for twelve years, as a boxer, promoter and manager. He has been active in this country, Australia and other foreign lands. What he has to say to the Cleveland meeting probably will have considerable bearing, as his opinion has been respected by some of the most prominent promoters in the game.

Bronson believes an association of promoters will be beneficial to the pugilistic sport, if it will maintain a standard in boxing rules, weight limits and requirements form holders of titles.

FAVORS UNIFORM RULES.

"I believe," said Bronson, "uniform rules should exist in all parts of the country, regardless of whether a referee's decision is given or the outcome of the bout is left to the newspapers. Too many times unqualified referees have been given a chance because such an examination should be licensed to act as referee in any club recognized by the association, providing his past record and character are good.

"The association should adopt absolute weight limits for every class, as a committee appointed for the purpose would settle them. The matchmaker then should be required to make matches in the various classes conform to the limits. I believe it would be a good plan to name a weight for the referee before the bout, and another for ringside.

DISCUSSED TITLE BOUTS.

"The association should have a national commission, as there is in baseball, where a report of every main bout would be filed by the referee, and grievances of the promoters, managers and boxers could be taken up for settlement. The promoters should be under bonds heavy enough to cover their agreements, and should be made to carry out their contracts to the letter, the same as the boxer.

"Last, but not least, I believe, every champion should be forced to defend his title in a championship bout at least once a year, the logical opponent to be chosen by the promoters and the commission."

Joshua Crane at Best.

NEWPORT, Aug. 19.—Society was thrilled when the Newport Polo team beat the Allen Red Birds, 14½ to 8. Joshua Crane was the star of the game. He scored eight goals for the winners.

East Boston "Fan" Confident of Winning Trip

W. A. WIKE.

How many of you attended the ceremonies at the opening of Braves' Field yesterday? Exciting, wasn't it?

Did you have a seat in the grand stand, did you sit in the bleachers or did you stand in front of the newspaper bulletin boards waiting for reports of the game?

How would you like to sit down front at all of the World's Series championship games?

You would think yourself fortunate if you could sit in especially reserved seat sections at all of the games, wherever played, and travel from city to city in a special Pullman Car, and without a cent of expense to you, wouldn't you?

Well, that's what the AMERICAN is offering you—a chance to see all of these wonderful ball games. Here is your opportunity—take advantage of it.

William A. Wyke or No. 1027 Bennington street, East Boston, says: "I've never been to ALL of the World's Series games before but I'm going to see them THIS year and it won't cost me a cent because I'm going to be a winner in the AMERICAN'S World's Series Contest.

Plenty of Mishaps at B. Y. C. Regatta

Yachtsmen were again greeted by a stiff northwester in the races of the Boston Y. C. off Hull, and several mishaps occurred.

The dory J. J. turned "turtle," throwing James Farrell and a crew of three into the water. The sloop Idol carried away her mast and the mainsail of the Wanda was ripped badly. The winners follow:

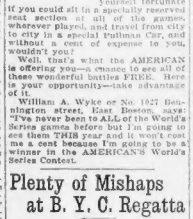
McLoughlin to Play W. F. Johnson Today

NEWPORT, Aug. 19.—Play in the special tennis tournament is narrowing down. William M. Johnson, R. Norris Williams, 2d, Maurice E. McLoughlin and Wallace F. Johnson remain in the semi-final round.

McLoughlin meets Wallace Johnson today and a great match should result.

Honor William L. Hallett.

William L. Hallett has been appointed captain of the East Boston Swimming Club. He was the only swimmer securing a place in the National last April.



WILEY IS PLUCKY AND BEATS FIELD

George Wiley, American middle distance champion, won the fifty-mile motor-paced race at the Revere track by the greatest display of gameness seen this season. Wiley lost seven minutes on a puncture, but got back on his wheel and nosed out George Seres in the finish by four and one-half laps.

Clarence Carman, with his left leg from ankle to hip bandaged as a result of his fall last Saturday night, proved a sensation by finishing third in the fifty-mile race behind Wiley.

Victor Linart was thrown by a puncture in the thirteenth mile and still some forty yards along the track. It was thought at first he was seriously hurt, but he soon recovered and jumped to his feet.

He started running wildly and pacemaker Libby held him a few minutes until he recovered, fearing that he might run on the track. He gained a lot of admirers by pluckily getting up behind his motor and riding nine miles more. The bruises suffered in the mishap and he had to retire from the race. The summary:

Five-mile open amateur race—Won by Fred Mc-Donough, Jack Hahn, Cambridge, second; Frank Dickson, Everett, third; John Fielding, Everett, fourth; Frank Hall, Everett, fifth; Leonard Wilkins, Providence, winner of most laps.

Ten-mile open amateur race—Won by Jack Hahn, Cambridge, second; Bill Sinn, Boston, third; Jack MacFarland, Boston (15 laps), second; Dennis Barry, Boston (15 laps), third; Harry Cook, Revere (15 laps), fourth; Frank Dickson, Everett (15 laps), fifth; Leonard Wilkins, Providence (15 laps), sixth; Fred McDonough, Cambridge (15 laps), seventh; Bill Hall, Revere (ten laps), eighth; Mike Barbier, Revere (ten laps), ninth; Joe Hall, Revere (ten laps), tenth; Joe Fields, Revere (ten laps), eleventh.

Fifty-mile professional handicap race—Won by Pat Logan, Boston, scratch; Bill Bellis, Everett, second; Bill Sinn, Boston, third; Willie Green, Boston, fourth; Jack Sullivan, New Haven, fifth; Tom Connelly, Everett, sixth; Joe Smith, Revere, seventh. Fifty-mile professional handicap race—Won by Wiley, Syracuse; Georges Seres, Paris, second; Carman, Canada, third; Linart, Belgium, fourth; Libby, Lynn, fifth.

Modified Marathon on Somerville Card

There will be a six-mile modified marathon in connection with the field day of the Democratic City Committee of Somerville at Lincoln Park, on Saturday, August 28. Five miles of the course will be run on the road and the final mile on the track at Lincoln Park. The race, a handicap affair, is sanctioned by the New England A. A. U.

Handsome silver cups will be awarded the first five runners finishing, while a sterling silver watch fob goes to the runner making the best time. The start will be made at the Ward 4 Democratic Club, No. 610 Somerville avenue, at 4 o'clock. No entry fee will be charged. Entries should be sent to John J. Murphy, No. 8 Laurel avenue, Somerville, before August 26.

Food for Sport Fans

BY GEORGE E. PHAIR

Some day McFarland and Gibbons may meet in the ring, but they never will fight.

John L. Sullivan is the latest warrior to come out into the lists to fight the Demon Rum. The report leads us to wonder what has become of that champion of righteousness—Pat Crow.

It were better to suspend judgment on Tom Cooler. It is not his fault that Jim Corbett picked him to win.

Connie Mack is so stubborn that he refuses to sell Frank Baker for $25,000. The fact that he can't get the $25,000 has nothing to do with it. It is just pure stubbornness.

Statisticians tell us that several records have been broken in baseball this season, but nobody has broken any turnstiles.

LOOKING FORWARD.

CHICAGO, Aug. 18, 1927.—Packey McFarland and Mike Gibbons yesterday came to an agreement today. If everything goes well the two greatest middleweights of the last generation will meet some time within the next ten years. All has been settled except a few minor details, such as the weight, the purse, the referee and the color of ribbons' Tom Umph, the famous fight promoter, after an interview with the boys, declared that he can induce the stock yards champion to re-enter the ring. "All I need," he says, "is a million dollars and a traction engine."

Baseball statisticians, however, are lax in their work. They do not tell us how many umpires have been walloped on the jaw.

If William and Directum keep on they will break a lot of pacing records. Likewise they will break the record set by Sam Langford and Joe Jeannette.

There is no truth in the report that Ad Wolgast is matched to box Joe Welling. Joe Welling is matched to box Ad Wolgast.

Dry land swimming is a new stunt, but you can find a lot of dry land yachtsmen at any yacht club.

Reports from the front indicate that Mr. Redfield is almost as popular as an umpire.

A young man in St. Louis was killed when a pitched ball struck him on the head. It was not Larry McLean.

FINANCE.

There was a man in our town
Whose name was Connie Mack.
"I'd sell the whole dam team," he said,
"To get my money back."

Magee Excels Tris Pulling Down Flies

Sherwood Magee of the Braves, who operated in the centre garden all Summer up to the recent Philadelphia series when he was switched to his old position in left, is credited with more put outs than Tris Speaker. This is about the first time on record that the Red Sox star has not been high Tee Jay in the matter of fields in pulling down spirals.

For 107 games Magee has bunched 278 put outs, while in 105 games Speaker's total of catches is 267. The assists and errors are alike, fourteen and seven, respectively.

WAS DIZZY; FELL ON THE SIDEWALK

J. M. Sargent, No. 4 Webster Place, Now Relates The True Story.

One-fourth of our city people find it a burden and are devoid of any real happiness. Many are living lives, but few know the real joy of living. Such people complain, chargeable to our modern civilization, and the question is, Is the city man or woman is forced to live, because of poor health, their health by going out and living back to nature, or is there some great majority—drug themselves along in an existence more or less suffering, and ignoring themselves to be afflicted with various ailments.

To these people the new herbal system remedy, Mi-o-na, comes as a ray of hope. It is a modern remedy for stomach troubles, and the tonic and laxative properties found in the roots and herbs, but few know the real value of these roots, herbs, barks, berries and flowers. Mi-o-na is a combination of these roots, herbs, barks, berries and flowers, and is a wonderful remedy for stomach troubles, dyspepsia and indigestion. Mi-o-na is a wonderful remedy for stomach troubles, dyspepsia and indigestion. Mi-o-na is a wonderful remedy for stomach troubles, dyspepsia and indigestion. Mi-o-na is a wonderful remedy for stomach troubles, dyspepsia and indigestion.

I have suffered with stomach trouble, dyspepsia and indigestion for years. I had a bad case and was so badly that I would fall on the sidewalk. I had blood poisoning in my stomach, causing gas and a heavy, tired feeling after eating. At times I was very nervous and restless and could not sleep at night. I had a hard lump in the pit of my stomach and at times I could not eat any meats or vegetables. I had no appetite for anything and took a great many different kinds of medicines and got no relief. A friend told me that Mi-o-na would do me good until I tried Plant Juice, and that I found relief. Plant Juice is a wonderful medicine, for I have only taken it two weeks, and I can eat any kind of food and enjoy all my meals. I sleep well at night. No more aches or pains for me. I can recommend Plant Juice to anyone.

The Plant Juice Man is at the Liggett Drug Co's Store, corner of Washington and Avon streets, where he is daily meeting the local public and introducing and explaining the merits of this remedy.—Advertisement.

Why We Quarrelled

No. 3—Wife Who Fought Over Her Boys

By Virginia Terhune Van de Water

Copyright, 1915, by the Star Company.

I AM almost ashamed to confess the matter about which my husband and I quarrel most bitterly is our boys.

There are two of them—fine chaps of 14 and 16. I fancy that if they were girls we would have fewer disputes about them.

For, to be frank, my husband is, I really believe, jealous of our sons. I mean he is jealous of my love for them.

He would be furious were I to accuse him of this. But it is nevertheless true. I do not mean to imply that he not fond of his boys, for he is—fond and proud of them, especially when they do well at school. Perhaps if they were girls the man's sense of chivalry would make him love them better. Perhaps then I might be jealous of his love for them. Who knows? But I do not think I would, for a mother loves a child better than a father does.

I made this statement to my husband once, and he resented it hotly.

"Just because I do not humor the kids as outrageously as you do, you think that I do not care for them as much as you do?" he declared. "Well, I do! But I do not think that they are little tin gods! And now that we are on this subject I will warn you that you are in danger of turning out into the world the worst spoiled pair of chaps that ever came down the pike!"

"They are dear, devoted children," I protested. "They always do what I ask them."

"Of course! Because you never ask them anything they don't want to do. And they adore you because you sacrifice yourself, your own inclinations, even me, to please them."

A BITTER ACCUSATION

I was shocked and indignant. What wife would not be at such language? For his accusation was false. I am a conscientious and loving wife, but my boys need my guidance and companionship more than my husband does. When they want me to go anywhere with them, I feel it is my duty as a mother to go with their wishes.

I know that my husband was remembering something that had occurred the previous evening, when the two boys had invited me to a moving picture show. It was Friday night, and they had no studying on hand. I accepted at once, and the lads turned to their father with—

"You'll come, too, won't you, Dad?"

"No, thanks," he rejoined. I don't care for movies."

"What are you going to do?" I asked.

"I had planned," he said, "to have a quiet evening at home and a game of cards with you. After which, as I am tired, I meant to go to bed early."

I knew I wanted me to stay at home, and I hesitated. I was sure that the boys had set their hearts on having me with them. If I were to refuse them they would be disappointed. They might even fancy that I did not care to accompany them. And at their age must a mother not keep her lads close to her? Why couldn't their father see this?

"Oh, do come, too, dear!" I urged. "It will do you good."

"I tell you I hate movies!" he exclaimed.

I considered this an unkind speech, as the lads had invited us both, and I suppose I looked my displeasure.

"Well, never mind," I said to my sons, "I'll go with you gladly. It is very sweet of you to ask me."

When I went to my room after dinner to put on my hat and coat my husband followed me there.

"I shall probably be in bed," he remarked, "by the time you get in."

"I am sorry to leave you when you expected me to spend the evening with you," I said. "But really I think my duty to the boys demands it."

"And what about your duty to me?" he asked coldly. "I suppose I am not to be considered—eh?"

HE WAS MADE INDIGNANT

"You could go if you want to," I replied. "Moreover, you were very disagreeable to the boys when they invited you. Does it ever occur to you that if you made companions of them I might not have to leave you as often as I do to be with them?"

"As often as you want to, you mean!" he retorted. "I do not need to be reminded that I must always play second fiddle where the boys are concerned."

"Oh, Tom!" I exclaimed, tears rushing to my eyes. "How can you be so unkind! You know very well why I go with them. If I don't keep them close to me they may seek evil companions and drift away from me. They need me."

"And don't I need you?" he demanded.

"Not as they do. Your morals and tastes are already formed; theirs are not."

"And because I am a reputable member of society, I can be neglected—is that it?" he argued, irrationally. "Why not speak the truth—that you love your sons better than you love your husband?"

I bit back the hot words that sprang to my lips. In my mind the thought was creeping—"Would it be any wonder if I did love them better? Do they ever make me suffer as you are making me suffer now?"

But I said nothing, only went quietly from the room. The boys were happy all the evening, and I tried to seem happy, too. Yet there was a lead-like load on my heart.

When we reached home at eleven o'clock, my husband was in bed and asleep; but I could not sleep for wondering—as I often wonder—how a man can be jealous of his own flesh and blood. Those are his sons as well as mine. Why, then, should he resent my giving them the truest devotion of which a mother is capable? Having brought them into the world, do I not owe them this?

(Another of these interesting stories will appear soon.)

"I always play second fiddle," said my husband.

Life Partners and Dance Crazes

Another Fictionless Fable for the Fair — About a Theory We All Know

By ANN LISLE

THERE was once a Young Husband who had the dance craze. Apart from that he was a very clever business man who thought that a husband's first duty was to make money and a wife's first responsibility was to have beautiful children and to bring them up well.

The Wife subscribed to his theories, so, of course, there was no friction in their home. She was much too busy with the cares of the household to learn to dance at all, and she was generally too tired from those "cares of the household" to go along with her husband when he went to the dansants. Of course no man can dance without a partner, and so the young husband found a Partner.

The Partner was a beautiful young woman who had neither household cares, husband or theory. She liked to dance—preferably with someone who danced well, but necessarily with someone who would pay the check. Unless one has a dinner invitation or a certain means of support it grows rather important for a cabaret tea to offer enough nourishment to last until some chap buys an after-theatre supper.

The Young Husband and his Partner danced merrily all through the Winter. And the Young Wife stayed at home and took care of the babies and provided such very good dinners that the Husband always came home to them. But he generally went out again at about 10 o'clock—"to the club," he said, or "to see someone on business." Of course the club was a dance club and the business was learning the latest steps.

The Young Wife ate her very good dinners and went to bed early and waxed unfashionably fat. And the Husband, secure in the Partner's ability and his Wife's coolly, danced more and more and enjoyed it better and better and was increasingly certain that a Wife's place was in the home.

And everybody in the city where they lived knew all about it and wondered whether they ought to tell the Young Wife or whether what she didn't know wouldn't hurt her. Before anybody could come to a painful decision or gossip could settle the matter, the Husband brazenly entered a dancing contest with his Partner and won a cup.

And a little paragraph in the city's best scandal-mongering sheet recorded the fact. And the Wife read the little paragraph. What she thought about it nobody knew.

Suddenly the dinners which were so very good contained more and more potatoes and soups and gravies and rich puddings which the Husband ate unsuspectingly, while the Wife managed nicely on the lean parts of the meat and salad and a bit of toast. The Husband began taking on weight and the Wife, aided by a masseuse and long walks, taken while the Husband was busy cabareting in stuffy restaurants, began losing her extra pounds. And then a mysterious young man appeared at her house every morning at eleven. The Young Wife and her children were taking music lessons—for she held firmly to the theory that what you don't know won't hurt you.

When the Wife weighed only a hundred and twenty and the mysterious young man had taught her all the extremely graceful dancing steps of which he was master, she appeared one day with this youth at one of the cabaret tea places in town.

Somehow or other every one else in the city met the Wife at the dansant long before her Husband did and they shook their heads gravely and came to the conclusion that now it was a case where what HE didn't know wouldn't hurt him.

Then one day the Wife and her nineteen-year-old dancing partner met the Husband and his nineteen-year-old dancing partner in a corner and won a cup from them.

The two nineteen-year-olds now form a clever dancing team and the Husband and Wife are devoting themselves to bringing up their children. The Wife keeps slender and the Husband grows fat. And they do not discuss their affairs. Nobody knows quite positively whether the woman planned it all or it just happened. And since the Husband is no more certain than to any one else, he spared the indignity of feeling that his Wife beat him at his own game.

MORAL. What You Don't Know Won't Hurt You—but the Craze for Dashing Partners Should Never Be Permitted to Endanger a Life-Partnership.

The Story of a Doctor's Wife

Told by the Wife Herself

No. 2—The Future Mrs. Drayton Catches the Physician in the Lie Direct.

"I had a queer consciousness that Marion Farley was watching us both."

WHEN at the sound of a man's voice over the telephone a woman's blood pounds through her veins with the tumult of a canonnading army—or like Spring sap in tender young trees—she would better marry him at once, or remove herself to a point that is distinctly "long distance."

For almost a month Peter Drayton telephoned me every morning at half past eight, and never a day passed that we did not glimpse each other with eyes as well as ears. Sometimes I ran in for a wee visit at the end of his office hours, but more often he called for me at the Settlement after my evening class and walked home with me in the soft Spring dark.

He kept my rooms filled with flowers, but it never occurred to me to wonder why he never took me to any of the theatres or restaurants in which "men of the world" delight to show to their feminine creature they are honoring with their attention.

Then, with terrifying suddenness, I found out why Dr. Drayton was carrying on our friendship via roses and sub rosa.

Lenore Wallis had come to live with me as maid and companion, and in the congenial atmosphere of serving the one person she regarded as friend the child was blossoming and expanding out of her sullen indifference to a world that had treated her so badly.

One Sunday morning at 9 she brought me at once my breakfast rolls and two telephone messages.

"Dr. Drayton phoned to say he was called out of town on an urgent case and could not see you today. And Mr. Harvey Blake of Chicago phoned to say he was at the Valthorpe, and would you please call him there as soon as you were awake enough to greet an old friend," announced Lenore.

A SUBSTITUTE.

I had been looking forward to my first public appearance with Peter Drayton that day. We had planned to take a noon train to Long Beach and after dinner to explore the Spring loveliness of the white sands to which the crowds had not yet been attracted.

Lenore's first message hurt me so that I hardly could make myself rejoice over the presence in town of my very oldest and truest friend, Harvey Blake—youthful sweetheart and all-time pal. But when he suggested a trip to Long Beach in a car he was thinking of buying for the tour back to Chicago I decided he was a particular messenger sent by the relenting fairies lest my day be too blue.

It is torture for a girl to sit through a wonderful made-for-out-doors Sunday and think about the happy companionship she might have enjoyed if that bugaboo "business" had not taken her man away from her. But the fairies who sent Harvey to me that day were not altogether kind!

I made myself fine in a silk dress that I well knew brought out the bronze lights in my hair, and then quenched my splendor demurely under a long pongee coat and a sailor hat draped in flowing veils. Peter Drayton could set my heart a-beating over the phone, but Peter Drayton was away on an urgent case, and I meant to console myself with thoroughness.

Harvey was duly overwhelmed by my effort to do him credit. "Connie, you don't look like a grave and earnest Settlement worker, but just like the kiddie I used to save all my best red apples for," he beamed.

And Lenore entered on her day along with the ecstatic look of a mother who hears her child praised.

A GOOD START

Our day started well. We had a wonderful dinner in the grillroom of the hotel and then strolled down on the sands to decide on the advisability of renting bathing suits and going in for a dip. The sands were almost deserted, but near us sat a group of laughing, would-be bathers. A sudden ball from one of them caused Harvey to shout: "Jimmy Farley—by all that's good!"

And so into my life came the second factor in making it—what it is.

We were persuaded to go up and rent some bathing suits and promised fifteen minutes patient waiting to enable us to dress and join the party of drop-ins pilgrims.

When we came racing back merrily in just twelve minutes, a dripping mermaid and mermaid had joined the party. And the man was Peter Drayton.

Everyone else shivered at the coldness of the ocean. I shivered at the chill dreariness in my own heart. Peter Drayton had lied to me, and by the measure of how much that hurt, I sensed how, for all my life, what he did must hurt me or give me joy. And to mask my pain, I flirted outrageously and with deliberate thoroughness with Jimmy Farley and Harvey.

For Dr. Drayton I had no word.

But I had a queer consciousness that Marion Farley was watching us both with some of the intentness I was giving to it. She was a Junoesque young woman—Jim Farley's sister—and the companion of Peter Drayton's wife.

It was a day of walking nightmares.

On the way home, Harvey Blake asked me to marry him. And I refused and said "No."

I have cried since, thinking of that "No." But if it were to do over, I should still have to refuse to be the wife of the man I had given up liking and revering and almost loving.

AS FATE WILLS

For Peter Drayton was my man—and I knew it. And a Liar—and I knew that, too.

A woman's happiness is made for her by the love she accepts. But gentle, kind Harvey could only win liking and respect from the girl who thrilled to the slightest caress or voice that could lie to her.

The next day Dr. Drayton sent me more roses and a note explaining that he had gone down to Jamaica to look after Jim Farley's little niece, who was suspected of a violent appendix attack and turned out to be suffering from too much strawberry shortcake. He assured me that he had cried to get my apartment over the phone, and that, failing, had allowed himself to be persuaded to join the Farleys and some friends in a motor trip.

I tried to believe him, but I couldn't. I felt that I would never have seen him again, but I was jealous of Marian Farley. There was something almost proprietary in the way her dark eyes searched Dr. Drayton's face. I had never been jealous before. But now I was jealous—wildly jealous.

There was no way for me to guess that she was suffering from the same tearing pain. But early Tuesday morning I had a note from her asking me to have tea with her quite informally.

"I do so like to know girls who are doing more than idle things. Don't refuse to let me know Constance Elliott better," she wrote.

And knowing there was to be war between us, I went to tea.

The flower-leaf skirt was the sensation at the Paquin opening, but the later versions have far more to recommend them and one of the most effective is exploited in this skirt of black taffeta. Through the veiling of black lace one catches glimpses of the white mousseline de soie corsage embroidered in silver.

It was a happy thought of Paquin's, this sleeveless jacket of irregular outline, for it gives the cachet to a gown of navy blue taffeta and Chantilly lace, hiding the lace corsage but revealing the sleeves and skirt yoke of the lace. A cluster of roses has slipped from the corsage to the bottom of the skirt.

Something new in the way of a bolero is an achievement, and Paquin has succeeded in evolving a novel effect by tying the ends once in the front at the belt line and by opening it to display a collar and vestee of mousseline de soie embroidered in silver. A band of tucking is inset in the skirt and bolero.

SOME PEOPLE THINK—

That it is the privilege of wives to ask questions—and of husbands not to answer them!

* * *

That widows and divorcees are interesting because they know so much—and debutantes, because they know so little!

* * *

That a man seems like "a devil of a fellow" if he pretends to know something shocking about every woman who has made a prominent place for herself in the world.

That the jig is up whenever a wife begins to lead her husband a dance—but that a man who is able to pay the piper has a right to reel through life.

IS LIFE A JEST?

The Koran—the Book of Sages—

Asks a question of mankind,
Ringing down thru all the ages,
Thrilling every human mind:

"Lo, the world is full of glory,
Heaven shadows forth the best—
Those and all the things between them
Think ye them He made in jest?"

Minds of poets, minds of sages,
Heart of simple humankind
At the end of countless ages
Ask—nor answer fail to find:

"God has made the world of glory,
Made the lowest and the best,
Did He have no purpose with them,
Did He make us all in jest?"

Stern the purpose thru the ages
Of the growth of humankind:
And the battle that man wages
Is not futile—is not blind.
Tho thou vainly grope toward glory—
Heavens shadows still the best—
And thy son mounts thru thy striving—
For the Father does not jest.

ALONG THE ROAD

I walked a mile with Pleasure;
She chattered all the way,
But left me none the wiser
For all she had to say.

I walked a mile with Sorrow;
And ne'er a word said she;
But oh, the things I learned from her
When Sorrow walked with me.

How to Treat Skin Diseases

Both air and water seem to have a bad effect upon skin diseases like eczema, of which there are many forms. Keeping out the water and air is the first thing to do. By using Cadum ointment for skin diseases, air and water are excluded, because it contains petrolatum and white wax, and these form a tight covering over the sore places upon the skin. Cadum also contains oil of cade, which has been successfully used many years by the medical profession in the treatment of Eczema and other skin troubles. If your skin is inflamed, irritated or sore, get a 25c. box of Cadum of your druggist and try it. People who have itched and scratched for years get rest and comfort immediately after applying Cadum.—Advertisement.

RECIPE TO DARKEN GRAY HAIR

This Home Made Mixture Darkens Gray Hair and Removes Dandruff.

To a half pint of water add:

Bay Rum	1 oz.
Barbo Compound	a small box
Glycerine	¼ oz.

These are all simple ingredients that you can buy from any druggist at very little cost, and mix them yourself. Apply to the scalp once a day for two weeks, then once every other week until all the mixture is used.

A half pint should be enough to darken the gray hair, rid the head of dandruff and kill the dandruff germs. It stops the hair from falling out, and [illegible] it promotes the growth of the hair and makes harsh hair soft and glossy. Shampoo arranging the hair is a pleasure.—Advertisement.

TODAY'S BEAUTY SUGGESTIONS

Face powder simply covers up an unattractive complexion and leaves no lasting benefits. Those who have tried a simple spurmax face lotion find it much better, as it removes skin discolorations, such as freckles and tan, and makes the skin smooth, white and velvety. This lotion is made by dissolving four ounces of spurmax in one-half pint hot water, then adding two teaspoonfuls glycerin. This complexion beautifier does not rub off or show like powder, and gives a more refined appearance. It removes both shininess and sallowness, rapidly giving the skin a permanent healthy, youthful appearance.

An especially fine shampoo for this weather can be had at trifling expense by dissolving a teaspoonful of canthrox in a cup of hot water. Pour slowly on scalp and massage briskly. This creates a soothing, cooling lather that dissolves and removes all dandruff, excess oil and dirt. Rinsing leaves the scalp spotlessly clean, soft and pliant, while the hair takes on a glossy richness of natural color, also a fluffiness which makes it seem very much [illegible] it is. After a canthrox shampoo arranging the hair is a pleasure.—Advertisement.

WILLARD TELLS HOW JOHNSON LOST SMILE

By JESS WILLARD.

(Copyright, 1915, by A. Merritt. All Rights Reserved.)

JOHNSON wore no "golden smile" when he came up for the second round. He had made the discovery that I meant to fight a cool, cautious battle, also that I had a reach about seven and a half inches longer than his own.

After a little fiddling he struck a pose in the centre of the ring, hands raised just above his head. He kept this up at intervals all through the fight, and some of the sporting writers figured that it was his way of resting.

What he was trying to do was to get me to take a chance on a right swing. All green fighters have a fondness for right swings and Johnson thought that he could pull me into one. Not only did I hold back from a right swing in that second round, but I didn't use one the entire fight.

The third round was brisker. Feinting like a flash, he worked in and out, and all of a sudden shot a hard left to my body. I tried to come back with a right hook, but missed it a mile. We both laughed.

Again he got me going with his feints and then put over a right shop that came like a bullet. It landed less than an inch from the point of the jaw. I nailed a clinch and blocked him so that he couldn't move his arms.

As we fell apart, I shot my left hard into his mouth, and when he grinned I saw that he was bleeding. The round ended with two left smashes that I blocked.

In the fourth round Johnson tried shoving his stomach out at me. He fairly invited me to put my fist into his midriff, but I had a wholesome respect for that right of his and I shook my head and waltzed.

Then he came like a tiger. I covered up as far as my jaw and solar were concerned, but he got a stinging left into my mouth that brought the blood. Back again it came and then he whipped his right into my body.

He raser bit me once square on the point. He landed further up any number of times, but I never let him have a good fair chance at the sleep-producing spot.

"Keep covered," my manager kept saying between the rounds.

"Don't worry," I grinned. "I've found out what he can do with that right."

The fifth round was a whirlwind. Johnson put a light left and right to my face and then came to a clinch. With all his might he tried to tear my guard down so that he could rip in some finishers.

He didn't have a chance. I bent his arms down and made him carry all my weight. It was our second test of bull strength and he saw that I was his master when it came to muscle.

"You sure are some big fellow," he grunted, as the referee ordered us to break.

"I thought you liked 'em big," I said.

Twice again he rushed, putting in some hefty rights to my body, but missing his punches at my jaw. The second rush backed me into the ropes, and I got out of the tangle by putting my left into his face and my right into his ribs.

The crowd was on its feet as we went to our corners. All the yelling seemed to be for me, Johnson getting little but abuse. Some of the things they yelled at him were dirty and cowardly and made me sore all over.

The sixth was the hardest fought round that we had. It was an even round. He did rush me to the ropes, but I blocked every punch except a hard left to the mouth. He got in a solid body punch and the rest were blocked. At the bell he was hammering my gloves, not my body.

For my part, I got in two hard lefts to the champion's face and put a right over his heart that made him grunt. At no time during the fight was my left cheek cut.

When I went back to my corner after that round I told Tom Jones that I could whip the champion any time I wanted to. I had outwrestled him in the clinches, taken his hardest blows without a blink and proved that my left jab was better than his.

"Don't start yet," Jones begged. "You've got all afternoon for the job. Wait, will you! Wait!"

Jones was right. In the seventh round Johnson put over the hardest blow that he hit me during the fight. It was the one blow that shook me down to my heels and made me see stars.

(Tomorrow Willard will tell how the champion began to weaken.)

NEGRO BUSINESS MEN HEAR MAJ. HIGGINSON

Major Henry L. Higginson addressed the delegates to the Negro Business Men's League Convention when the second day's session was resumed at Convention Hall today. The title of his address was "Words of Encouragement."

Previous to Major Higginson's appearance, Booker T. Washington, president of the league, said:

"This year's convention in Boston is the climax of seven months of the last sixteen years. It even outdoes that of last year, which did not seem possible. Preparations at previous conventions have never before been conducted on such a scale as they have here. Boston has been most hospitable. No weaker many think it the most ideal convention city in the world."

The praise from President Washington greatly pleased the Boston brood of the league, which has eighty-four members, and members of the committee of arrangements, of which Phillip J. Allston is president, James H. Madison, vice-president, and W. A. Cox, secretary.

TODAY'S STOCK MARKET

By W. H. ROSS, Financial Editor

Stocks were weak today and grew weaker still when news of the sinking of the Arabic was received. Reports of the German advance in the East and of the British repulse in the Dardanelles also had a bearish influence. Latest war news may, it is believed, be detrimental to the immediate placing of a British loan in this country. Before 2 o'clock prices in the New York market rallied from the lowest.

Declines early in the last hour included Allis-Chalmers 1⅛, American Can 1¾, Beet Sugar 2⅜, Car and Foundry 1¾, American Loco 1¼, Baldwin 1, Bethlehem 1, Cruible 1¾, General Electric 2, General Motors 4½, Goodrich 1⅜, Maxwell 2¾, Mexican Petroleum 2⅝, Republic Iron & Steel 1⅝, Studebaker 2, U. S. Rubber 1⅛, Westinghouse 1¼, Atlantic Gulf 1⅜, Chino ½, Inspiration ⅝, Tennessee Copper ⅜, U. S. Steel 1¼, Canadian Pacific ½, Delaware & Hudson ½, New York Central ⅜, New Haven ¼, Northern Pacific ⅝, Atchison ⅜, Reading ⅝, Southern Pacific ⅝, and Union Pacific ⅝.

Among gains were Anaconda 1⅛, Utah ⅝, N. Y. Air Brake 6⅜ and St. Paul ¼.

In Boston losses included Alaska Gold ⅝, Woolen preferred ½, American Zinc ⅝, Calumet & Arizona 1¼, Calumet & Hecla 9, Copper Range 1, North Butte ⅝, Osceola ½, Tamarack ⅜, Quincy ¼, Island Creek 1, Pond Creek 1, Shoe Machinery ½, U. S. Smelting ⅜, and New Haven ¼. Boston & Maine was up ⅝.

WAR STOCKS WEAKER.

After opening irregular stocks grew weak in New York on the war. Other issues were freely offered. Discrimination by banks is having effect upon many. Americans were weak in London and Paris when they opened here. There is renewed fear of liquidation on account of calls on a large scale by the British. Financial interests and speculators are awaiting for announcement as to how Great Britain is going to borrow war money in this country. Estimates of the prospective loan range from $150,000,000 to $750,000,000. Sterling exchange was firmer. Demand advanced to $4.67⅞, and then receded to $4.67. Prices for many issues were active and lower during. Within half an hour after the opening selling pressure was very strong. Many traders believe a sharp reaction is due for the war orders. There was selling by important interests. Most of the early buying was by the public. There is less fear of a big strike in munition plants. Copper's were supported well until afternoon, although a large amount of metal has been sold at 25 to 26¼ cents a pound. Anaconda was strongest in this class. New York was quite active during the morning at its highest price in eight years. Trading was very active at the start, transactions totaling nearly 91,000 shares in the first fifteen minutes. After that business was of less volume than yesterday.

LOCAL MARKET WAS INERT.

There was not much trading in Boston at the opening or afternoon. The curb market was limited and the market lacked breadth. Zinc declined, Butte & Superior showing the most loss, 1.16 said spelter has been offered for future delivery as low as 10 cents a pound without inducing buying. It was the lowest in London, where lead advanced 5s. Spot copper and futures were off 41 there. Electrolytic copper is said to be understood the British government needs large amounts of refined copper. Its decline in London is a British argument for lower prices in this country, where the metal must be sold. Domestic demand is light. Large selling interests are indisposed to make further price concessions to get business.

Rescue Three from Capsized Sailboat Off Quincy Pier

Three South Boston men were rescued barely in time from the overturned sailboat to which they were clinging off Quincy Point by James Nash and Samuel L. Turner of the Quincy Yacht Club who went to their assistance in a power dinghy.

Christie Hellfors of Farragut road was partly unconscious when rescued, and his companions, Frank Cousins of Thomas Park and George Casey of East Third street were so exhausted that they could not talk to their rescuers, except to thank them in a chattering way. They were taken ashore at Wessagussett Beach, North Weymouth, and later were able to go home without assistance.

OUR FIRST DUTY IS TO MAINTAIN PEACE;
OUR NEXT DUTY IS TO PREPARE FOR WAR

If We Cannot Supply Ourselves with Arms in Time of War, Why Not Supply Ourselves Now?

PRESIDENT WILSON, speaking to Congress in relation to the impropriety of the United States exporting arms to the combatants in Mexico, said:

"For the rest I deem it my duty to exercise the authority conferred upon me by the law of March 4, 1912, to see to it that neither side of the struggle now going on in Mexico receives any assistance from this side of the border.

"I SHALL FOLLOW THE BEST PRACTICE OF NATIONS IN THE MATTER OF NEUTRALITY BY FORBIDDING THE EXPORTATION OF ARMS AND MUNITIONS OF WAR OF ANY KIND FROM THE UNITED STATES to any port of the Republic of Mexico—a policy suggested by several interesting precedents and certainly dictated by many manifest considerations of practical expediency. We cannot in the circumstances be the partisans of any party to the contest that now distracts Mexico, or constitute ourselves the virtual umpire between them."

The administration in its recent note to Austria-Hungary assumed a diametrically opposite attitude, and declared that "the principle of international law, the practice of nations, the national safety of the United States, and finally neutrality itself, are opposed to the prohibition by a neutral nation of the exportation of arms, ammunition or other munitions of war to belligerent powers." This ready reversibility of argument is interesting as showing the versatility, volubility and variability of the incumbent administration, but it is not the matter of main importance before the American people.

The point of peculiar interest to Americans is the statement that "the safety of the United States requires that the exportation of arms be continued."

This point is amplified in another paragraph of the note, which declares that "the United States, in the event of an attack by a foreign power, would be at the outset of war seriously, IF NOT FATALLY, embarrassed by the lack of arms and ammunition and of the means to produce them in sufficient quantities to supply the requirements of national defence. The United States has always depended on the right and power to purchase arms and ammunition from neutral nations in case of foreign attack. This right which it claims for itself it cannot deny to others."

This statement is not of much value as an argument, seeing that within the year this "right" has been denied to Mexico, but it is of immeasurable consequence as a confession.

We have seen in the case of Russia at what an immense disadvantage a nation is placed which cannot supply itself with arms and munitions in time of war.

Russia, with an available army of seven million men, has been disastrously defeated by about one-fourth that number of Teutons because Germany COULD supply itself with arms and ammunition, while Russia had to depend on overseas sources which were inadequate and unreliable.

The United States, like Russia, would have millions of brave men ready to sacrifice their lives for their country, but these heroes would sacrifice their lives to no purpose if they were not armed.

According to the statement of the administration, only recently made to a foreign power and a possible future enemy, the United States under present conditions could not supply its soldiers with enough arms and ammunition to carry on a war.

What an important thing for foreign powers to know!

What a serious thing for the United States to confess!

We have been told by the opponents of preparedness that the United States could put millions of volunteers in the field within a few months. But of what use would be these millions of heroic volunteers if they were armed only with clubs like the poor Russian soldiers?

What the opponents of preparedness mean is that they could put millions of volunteers in the GRAVE in a few months.

Furthermore, these millions of heroic Americans would SACRIFICE THEIR LIVES IN VAIN.

They could not successfully defend their beloved country if they were armed only with clubs and pitchforks, and had to combat an invading enemy armed with millions of modern rifles and machine guns, and with unlimited artillery of highest power and largest bore.

Plainly the United States would not be in a much better position than Russia is, and might be in a much worse position. Russia has been able to get SOME arms and ammunition from outside sources.

The United States might not be able to get any.

The fact that we are sending arms and ammunition to the warring nations of Europe DOES NOT OFFER THE SLIGHTEST GUARANTY THAT THESE NATIONS WOULD BE WILLING OR EVEN ABLE TO SEND ARMS TO US IF WE WERE AT WAR.

The next Hague convention might decide definitely (according to what Mr. Wilson himself has said "is the best practice among nations in the matter of neutrality") that arms might not be shipped by neutrals to nations engaged in war.

Even if The Hague convention should not so decide or should not again assemble, the victorious nation in this war may be able to prevent the shipment of arms to the United States if it so DESIRE.

Suppose England should be victorious in this great European war, as she was in the great Napoleonic war a century ago;

Suppose we should be drawn into a war with England after this war, as we were after the Napoleonic wars, by England's interference with our commerce and envy of our prosperity, by the contemptuous disregard of our rights, which England even now is seen to exhibit, where would we get arms to defend ourselves?

President Wilson says we could not make them in sufficient quantities at home.

England controls the seas with her mighty navy, and surely would not allow us to get them from abroad.

Mexico, one of our neighbors by land, could not furnish them. Canada, our only other land neighbor, would not furnish them.

We would be in the position of poor, incompetent, improvident, impotent Russia, helpless through lack of arms, with the added injury and indignity that part of the arms which would be turned upon us for the murder of our people would be the very arms which, from the meanest motives of gain, we are now furnishing England for the murder of other peoples.

Suppose the war with the blood-red sun of Japan should be upon us, war which is as sure to happen as the real sun is sure to rise—or set.

Japan is England's ally. Japan and England absolutely and completely control the Atlantic and Pacific and all the roads by which arms could reach us.

The yellow invaders would have the arms which Japan had carefully and intelligently stored up for such an anticipated occasion. They would have the arms which Russia would furnish them and the arms which England would furnish them. Here again, part of the arms turned against us for our murder would be the arms which we had furnished England and Russia and Japan for their particular purposes of murder.

Suppose Germany should win this European war. We have less to dread from Germany than from some other nations, but we have enough to dread from Germany. True, we have never had a war with Germany. She has been our firm friend throughout our existence as a nation, and during our struggle for independence.

Frederick the Great was the personal friend and ardent admirer of George Washington.

Baron Steuben transformed our raw and untrained troops at Valley Forge into a disciplined army which wrested victory from England.

But our recent diplomacy, if we choose to dignify it by that name, has doubtless transformed a former friend into an active enemy, so that war with Germany is now among the possibilities. True, Germany does not as yet control the seas as England and Japan do, and we might therefore get arms from European nations if conditions remained as they are at present. But, if Germany should be victorious in this European war, conditions would probably not remain as they are at present in this European war.

Victory for Germany would mean that the Allies would be beaten to their knees; that Belgium and the iron and steel districts of France would be absorbed into the German Empire; that Germany would dominate Europe and impose her policy of non-shipment of arms in her treaties of peace. Germany would then be twice as well able to supply herself with arms as ever before, and the other nations would be much less able to supply us, even if they were allowed to supply us.

We would, therefore, be nearly as defenceless against Germany as we would be against England or Japan.

President Wilson, if our nation is so inadequately supplied with arms as to be at the mercy of a foreign foe, the obvious thing to do, the only sane and even semi-statesmanlike thing to do, is to keep our arms at home and SUPPLY OUR OWN NEEDS FIRST.

If we have no arms at home, why send arms abroad which may be in time used against us? If we cannot supply ourselves with arms speedily in time of war, let us begin supplying ourselves now in time of peace, so that we may be prepared in time of war.

MAKE THE MANUFACTURE OF ARMS IN THIS COUNTRY A GOVERNMENT MONOPOLY.

Mr. President, employ that monopoly to supply our own people and protect our own nation, until we no longer have to make openly and blandly the fearful and shameful confession that we could not supply our own people with arms to defend their lives and the country in time of war.

Then and thereafter, if we chose to make a few blood-stained dollars by peddling abroad the instruments of slaughter, we can do so in safety, if not in honesty and morality.

Principle is more important than profit with our citizens, Mr. President. Love of country is more deeply rooted than love of coin.

The administration and Congress should give more thought to the welfare of our people, to the protection of our nation, and less consideration to the questionable business of unscrupulous speculators in arms and lives.
